'Freedom Riders' Going To Parchman

Sheriff Gets Authority To Transfer 96

Hinds County Jail Overcrowded, Board Explains

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Hinds County Sheriff J. R. Gilroy, whose jail is overcrowded with "Freedom Riders" had authority today to transfer them to the spacious 16,000-acre state penitentiary.

The authority was granted after a dozen more segregation-testers were convicted Monday to raise the total to 96 in city and county jails.

The arrests began May 24, three days before Diane Nash of Nashville, Tenn., coordinating secretary for the Nashville Student Non-Violent Movement said the riders "plan to fill up the jail" in Jackson and Montgomery, Ala. Twenty-six others have paid fines or posted bond.

The Board of Supervisors said in their order that "by reason of such overcrowding, Hinds County is unable with its own facilities to provide necessary housing and work as required by statute for its prisoners."

The board said that at Parchman, the sprawling prison farm 150 miles northwest of Jackson, "adequate public work may be made available to them so they may lawfully receive credit for time spent in confinement."

The prisoners have been "sitting out" their fines at the rate of $3 per day. If transferred to Parchman, work on cotton or other crops could be provided.

Arrangements have been made with the state for use of the prison facilities as a jail for housing the Freedom Riders. Reports indicated a barracks-style build-

Negro 'Bishop' Gets Sing Sing Term For Fraud

NEW YORK (AP)—There was something odd about the way the "bishop" of Brooklyn's Ideal Spiritualistic Indepnedent Church of Faith of America handled his congregation.

For instance, he would lie in a coffin murmuring incantations as his flock filed by and dropped $5 and $10 over his purple velvet robes.

Occasionally, investigators said, he would mix in a likely policy number with his incantations.

The Brooklyn district attorney's office, at the request of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, looked into the situation and found that "bishop" Pierce Johnson, 61, had two $12,000 chauffeur-driven Cadillacs and plush living quarters.

He also had a prison record, and a morals charge several months ago and he admitted later trying to give an officer $200 to get the charge dropped.

Monday, Kings County Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz gave Johnson a 5 to 7-year prison sentence for attempted bribery.

"I am sending him to Sing Sing," the judge said. "Let him lie in a coffin there and see how much money the convicts will give him."

Meeting Called To Name School Boss

BATON ROUGE (AP) — A six-man majority today called an emergency meeting of the East Baton Rouge Parish School Board, apparently in its move to name a new superintendent.

The meeting was set for 9:30 a.m. in the school board office.

The exact nature of the meeting was not revealed ahead of time.

There was an unconfirmed report Monday night the six-man majority — made up of four members appointed by Gov. Jimmie H. Davis and two elected members — met privately to consider Lloyd Lindsey as candidate for the post of school superintendent.

The board majority began looking for a new man for the post after Dr. Lloyd V. Funchess was ousted last week. Several legal questions befogged the issue.

GOV'T REPORTS

Employment Up In Big Industry

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reported today a strong pickup in working hours and employment in heavy industry in May, particularly in autos and steel.

A Labor Department report amplifying earlier May job totals said the economy is continuing to show extra seasonal gains.

The work week of the average factory worker moved up more than seasonally from 39.3 hours in April to 39.6 hours in May—the four increase in working hours in as many months. The work week has increased nearly a full hour since January, but is still a bit less than a year ago.

JOB INCREASE

Ray Larson, a Labor Department manpower statistics expert, said the steady increase in the work week is a strong indication that employers will continue adding to payrolls.

The number of workers on nonfarm payrolls rose by 50,000 to 52.5 million, almost double the usual rise for May. This included a 150,000 job increase in durable goods industries, an area in which employment had fallen by nearly 900,000 from 1960.

The largest gains from April were in steel and auto industries and in plants fabricating metal parts for the auto manufacturers: Job increases were reported, however, throughout hard goods manufacturing.

The figures today elaborated on data released nearly two weeks ago showing that over-all employment rose in May by more than a million to 66,778,000 and unemployment declined by nearly 200,000 to 4,768,000.

The unemployment figure is still 1.3 million more than a year ago. The idle figure is due to jump up again to about 5.5 million this month when the usual flood of students enter the labor force seeking summer jobs.

No Publicity To Precede Further Rides

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) —More "Freedom Rides" into Alabama are promised for this week in the wake of a federal judge's refusal to keep in force a temporary restraining order against such rides.

However, a spokesman for one of the sponsoring groups said the rides into Montgomery, where similar activity

New Frontier Being Aided By GOP Liberals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Liberal Republicans got some of the credit today from Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana for the advance through Congress of the administration's New Frontiers program.

The senate's 64-25 passage of a $6.14-billion housing bill marked another victory Monday for President Kennedy in getting the kind of legislation he wants and in almost the form he wants it.

The House has yet to act on the housing measure. Leaders there are only cautiously optimistic about the bill's final fate.

But in the House, as in the Senate, the old coalition of Republicans with Southern Democrats appears to be crumbling. In the Senate, in Mansfields view, the coalition has been reversed.

ON THEIR OWN

"We must give credit where credit is due, to the 8 to 13 liberal Republicans who have gone along with many of President Kennedy's proposals," the Democratic leader said. "In several instances their votes have decided close issues in our favor."

Mansfield said he thinks the GOP liberals have become more independent because they are on their own, without the responsibility they had during the Eisenhower administration to uphold the program of a Republican president.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said in a separate interview that this factor obviously is playing a part in the failure of the GOP-Southern Democratic coalition to prevent the passage of measures its members regard as extravagant, inflationary and unsound.

FIRST LINE OF DEFENSE

Egg Smelling School Opens

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Twenty recruits for the Egg Smellers Corps—America's first line of defense against one kind of food poisoning — are training in Kansas City.

They must learn to detect spoiled batches of frozen eggs in commercial markets.

"We use chemical and bacteriological tests to support the nose, but the nose is still our main line of defense," said Alfred Barnard, district director of the Pure Food and Drug Administration, operator of the school.

Frozen eggs generally are sold in 30-pound cans. Barnard said chemical or biological tests can't determine if these contain rotten eggs.

"If more than 10 per cent of the 30 pounds is bad, it can be detected easily," he said. "If it is less, however, the smeller has a difficult task.

"Some men can't smell, just as some men can't see. We try to pick men with good noses.

"If they pass one or two bad packs, they can still be egg smellers, but if they call a good one bad, they are washed out."

Applicants take preliminary tests before they are sent to smelling schools. They have to detect small quantities of vanilla and other substances in water.

At the school, recruits drill holes into frozen eggs, then take a whiff, After several days of this, the smeller take final exams.

"Age has nothing to do with smelling," Barnard said. "I knew one man who still had a top-notch nose when he retired at 70."

JFK Cancels Speech Due To Ailing Back

But Condition Not Worsening, Salinger Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy cancelled a speaking engagement today to speed recovery of his ailing back.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, emphasized in announcing that Kennedy had called off his speech that the decision indicated no worsening of his condition.

"It is just a question of allowing the improvement to continue and not doing anything to delay the improvement," Salinger told newsmen.

Kennedy had been scheduled to address the U.S. Conference of Mayors at a luncheon in a downtown Washington hotel.

SEEM TIRED

The engagement would have required him to drive about a half-mile from the White House and, despite the crutches he is using, to put additional pressure on his back.

Before Salinger announced the change in Kennedy's program, Democratic congressional leaders had reported the President seemed to be in excellent condition.

"I never saw him look better," House Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., said after he and other Democratic congressional leaders held their weekly breakfast meeting with Kennedy.

Rayburn told reporters Kennedy did not seem tired or give any evidence of pain. The President told them, Rayburn added, that he expects to be able to discard his crutches within a few days.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson echoed Rayburn's view on Kennedy,'s appearance and manner.

Kennedy asked Johnson to substitute for him before the Conference of Mayors. Salinger said Johnson would express the thoughts Kennedy had planned to present in an extemporaneous

Missing Security Clerk Found At Track, Quits Job

WASHINGTON (AP) —William H. Covington, the National Security Agency clerk who was found at a race track Monday after being missing four days, has quit his job, the Pentagon said today.

Covington, 28, resigned from the super secret agency "for personal reasons," a Pentagon spokesman said in answer to a question.

The Defense Department emphasized Monday, after Covington was located at the Delaware Park Race Track near Wilmington, no charges had been made against him.

Covington's wife reported him missing last Wednesday. He later was reported seen at the Charles Town, W.Va., race track and at Arlington, Va.

The Pentagon stressed that Covington was not under arrest. "He has done nothing wrong that we know of," one official said.

Covington had access to a limited amount of classified material in his $6,600-a-year job, reporters were told. Officials had discounted any possibility that Covington might have defected to the Communists.

Two NSA code clerks, Bernon F. Mitchell and William H. Martin, fled to the Soviet Union last summer. Both now are working for the Soviets in Moscow.

Covington has worked five years for the NSA, which carries on around-the-clock monitoring of all electronic communications. Its work is so secret that ordinarily its employes are not permitted to say even that they work there.

The Defense Department, which operates NSA, said Covington had been off for two months after an operation.

Mexicans Held In Drug Operations

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Two more Mexican men were arrested in a federal roundup of an alleged narcotics ring operating in Louisiana,, Texas and Mexico.

Customs agents announced Monday the arrest of Bernardo Garza, 36, and Arnulfo Valle, 30, both of Matamoros, Mexico, bringing the total number of arrests since May 18th to 14.

The federal agents also announced the confiscation of an additional $24,800 in marijuana, bring the total amount seized in the case to more than $33,000.

Housing Bill Gets Thumping Senate Okay

WASHINGTON (AP)—A thumping 64-25 Senate passage for the $6.14-billion housing bill gave encouragement to the Kennedy administration today over the House floor fight expected in a few days.

The House Rules Committee is to meet on the legislation Thursday and is expected to clear it for debate starting next week.

Fifty-two Democrats and 12 Republicans supported the measure on final passage in the Senate Monday, with 17 Republicans and 8 Southern Democrats opposed.

EVERY YEAR

This was the heaviest margin piled up in the Senate for any of the major items on President Kennedy's 1961 legislative program.

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., chief sponsor of the bill, told a reporter he felt that with enactment of this measure there would be no need for omnibus housing legislation next year and perhaps for a longer time.

For about a decade Congress has been passing big housing bills almost every year.

But Sparkman pointed out that in the 1961 bill for the first time such key programs as urban renewal, public housing, farm housing, college dormitories, and veterans' housing are being put on a long-term basis.

Another Alabaman, Democratic Rep. Albert Rains, will serve as floor manager for the legislation in the House. The bill approved by the House Banking Committee

Stripper Honored With Colonelcy

FRANKFORT, Ky. (UPI)—Some embarrassed state officials were willing today to forget that a commission in the Honorable Order of Kentucky Colonels was issued to a strip tease dancer who is a key witness in the George Ratterman case.

Juanita Jean Hodges, who dances under the name of April Flowers, was stripped of her commission a few hours after she showed up in a federal courtroom at Lexington, Ky., Monday.

The stripper was scheduled to testify before a federal grand jury but it postponed action on an investigation into the arrest of Ratterman. Ratterman, a reform candidate for sheriff of Campbell County, has claimed he was "framed" when arrested in a Newport, Ky., hotel room with Miss Hodges last May 9.

The blonde dancer said that a Lexington, judge whom she did not identify obtained the Kentucky commission for her after seeing her dance in a Newport nightclub.

Lt. Gov. Wilson W. Wyatt said he granted the commission last September on the recommendation of Secretary of State Henry H. Carter.

Carter said he would take full blame and added, "The lieutenant governor's office is not to blame in any way for the commission. We did it here and I can't recall for the life of me who we did it for."

SOVIET FLY IN SOUP

Test Ban Talks In Deeper Doubt

GENEVA (AP) — The future of the stalled nuclear test ban talks was cast in deeper doubt today by the Soviet Union's insistence that the West either accept an inspection veto or transfer negotiations to the impending general arms parley.

The United States and Britain rejected both proposals but said the proposals to transfer the talks would be studied carefully in Washington and London. They made clear previously they would never agree to a veto over the control machinery.

Semyon K. Tsarapkin, Soviet negotiator at the three-power talks qualified his demands Monday by saying they were not to be considered an ultimatum or threat of a walkout.

"We are quite willing to continue meeting here as long as necessary," Tsarapkin told U.S. delegate Arthur H. Dean and Sir Michael Wright of Britain.

IF POSSIBLE

But Tsarapkin said unless the United States and Britain are willing to accept the Soviet proposal for a three-man board in charge of the test ban control machinery, the only way to get the talks going again is to merge them with the East-West negotiations on general disarmament.

The merger proposal had been

OLD SOLDIER COMMENTS

Air Cover Needed In Cuban Invasion

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Old soldier Dwight D. Eisenhower still says no invasion can be successful without adequate air cover if there is opposing air power by the defense.

Gen. Eisenhower, who directed allied landings in World War II, made his statement Monday in commenting on the abortive invasion of Cuba by forces opposed to the regime of Fidel Castro.

The statement, at a news conference, came a day after new Republican National Chairman William E. Miller declared President Kennedy "rescinded and revoked the Eisenhower plan to have the Cuban freedom fighters protected by American air power."

The former president also said the United States cannot very much longer "keep on ice" the matter of resuming nuclear testing. He told the news conference "the time comes when we have to fix a date" beyond which the nation would not feel bound to abstain from testing.

"If we are just going to stand around talking," the Soviets could be testing without the United States knowing it, he asserted. Eisenhower said that before he left the White House "I told my people we definitely would take steps" toward fixing a date. So far as he knows, he said, no date has been set.

Eisenhower was here for a day of political activities. Several thousand persons sweltered in hot and humid weather to greet him at mid-day at Lunken Airport. He

Greeted By Mid-Ranking Castro Men

Dictator Leaves For Provinces Before Arrival

HAVANA (AP) — The American mission to exchange tractors for prisoners arrived by air today and was greeted by middle-ranking officials of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government.

The four members of the mission were received at the airport by Major Luis Crespo of the Institute of Agrarian Reform; Enrique Cabre, chief of machinery of the institute, and Fernando Otero, aide to President Osvaldo Dorticos.

The group went from the airport to the Havana Riviera Hotel.

Castro left for Oriente Province before the arrival of the mission.

Before leaving Miami the group declared its "humanitarian purpose" is to free 1,200 captured invaders by exchanging 500 tractors for them, as originally proposed by Castro.

The four man team of technical experts departed at 5:26 a.m. on the hour's flight to Havana with the avowed hope of working out a satisfactory tractors for prisoners trade in the next couple of days.

A one-man protest demonstration greeted the U.S. negotiators as they went through final departure procedures at Miami International Airport.

Douglas R. Voorhees, a local real estate man known for his vocal advocacy of causes, loudly accused the team of going to Cuba to "submit to ransom, to blackmail."

He charged that the non-governmental team of experts was violating the Logan Act which bars negotiations by private citizens with foreign governments.

Voorhees demanded that the Dade County (Miami) police arrest the U.S. team. The police instead kept Voorhees to one side of the departing group but let him talk on.

The Kennedy administration, which supports the Tractors-for-Freedom drive, has told the group it is not violating the Logan Act.

The technical team, while hopeful Castro would quickly agree to a swap because he needs tractors, was apprehensive that the unpredictable prime minister might demand terms unacceptable to the American committee.

Voorhees was the only protestor to show up at the airport through there had been rumors there might be trouble.

Dubliners Roar Out Welcome To Irish Princess

DUBLIN (AP)—Crowds roared out an Irish greeting to Princess Grace of Monaco again today, but a reinforced police guard spared her a repetition of the wild welcoming scene that brought her to tears Monday night.

Elegant in a gray wool coat topped with a biege linen hat, the princess and her husband Prince Rainier drove 30 miles from Dublin to visit a hospital run by the Medical Missionaries of Mary at Drogheda.

The seven-story hospital is among the most modern in Europe. The American-born princess toured the wards and inspected a modern recreation wing built with money raised by Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston and American Catholics.

LOOKED TIRED

The princess is here with Prince Rainier on the first royal state visit in the 40 years of the Irish Republic. She looked tired after three days of public appearances.

Her Rolls-Royce still was scratched from Monday night's overenthusiastic welcome, when a crowd of 20,000 swept police from their motorcycles and swarmed around the car.

Twelve people were hospitalized and more than 100 were treated for cuts and bruises. The prince and princess sat helpless in their car for 20 minutes while the crowd milled around them on O'Connell Street.

Government Now Pays Medical Aid For Elderly

In Ouachita Parish there are currently 4,236 aged men and women who can benefit from the acts passed by the recent legislature and signed by the governor.

Louisiana's sick and disabled aged who are without income to pay for major medical care will receive help on a scale not previously provided, according to Joseph S. Worley, Ouachita Parish Welfare director.

This has been made possible through an act of Congress which provides matching funds to states in which direct payment is made to doctors, druggists and hospitals for the care of Old Age Assistance recipients, Worley explained.

For a number of years Louisiana has been providing small allotments for medical care in the welfare checks of these recipients. Because the money for these allotments came from state funds alone, it has been extremely limited and has never been enough to meet their medical needs.

Now by transferring the small

IN 'WIND FACTORY'

Lawmakers Enjoy Lighter Moments

EDITOR'S NOTE— Into each life, including your congressmen's, a little fun must fall. Here a long-time student of the congressional scene takes you into the country's big wind factory—that's one senator's evaluation — for a look at our lawmakers in some of their lighter moments.

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—In this increasingly troubled world, where even its jokes are often sick, it's a pleasure to report that Congress is still joggling along as full of jollity as ever.

Naturally, it's full of a lot of other things besides jollity. Bores, for instance.

It is now apparent that many taxpayers, peeved at Washington, have taken their horrible revenge by sending to Congress the most uninteresting character they've ever met.

Get a gaggle of these quacking monotonously in what some humorist has called a debate, and even the flowers on the Senate rug begin to wilt.

But the strong-hearted and the sturdy-eared who hang on long enough will get their little reward.

Sooner or later that well known television entertainer, Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen, R-Ill., will take the floor.

No other senator can beat his way around the oratorical bush with a greater flourish. No one else can take a simple statement and clothe it in such splendiferous raiment.

When, for example, Dirksen wants to define his political philosophy it capers out like this: "I do not know whether I am a liberal. I think I am a garden variety conservative."

Most of us would let it go at that, but Dirksen quickly adds the garnish.

"If I remember my Latin," he told the Senate, "I think the word 'liberal' was derived from the word 'liber,' meaning 'free,' and the suffix 'al' means 'pertaining to.' So the word 'liberal' means pertaining to freedom.

"If that is it, I am a genuine, unmitigated, unreconstructed, unregenerated, 100-percent, dyed-in-the-wool liberal."

Now let's move along to a discussion the unregenerated liberal is having with Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La.

Ellender has a paper which he says represents President Kennedy's view on an amendment. Dirksen says fine, but he wishes Kennedy had signed the paper.

Here's the way it looks in Dirksenian prose: "In the spirit of the New Frontier, I wish to suggest to my distinguished friend from Louisiana that if he will call up his chief in the White House, I am sure we can get one of the riding pages to get on his horse and dash down there and get the statement. It should not take more than an hour . . .

"I would like to see this matter laid out in official fashion. I would like to see the sentiments documented, and then I would like to see the signature at the bottom of the page.

"There is nothing that gives such stability to a piece of paper as the right kind of signature at the bottom of it."

Ellender: "The senator is not inclined to say that the paper is not authentic, is he?"

Dirksen: "Oh, indeed not. My friend is the soul of all that is authoritative and authentic. He would never disclose to the Senate any sentiment imputed to someone else unless it were religiously stated as a fact because his reputation for probity and integrity is absolute and unimpeachable."

Ellender: "And beyond reproach, too."

"Yes," said Dirksen, the model of amiability. "But I would still like to see the signature."

If a senator wants to move one of his bills along faster, he may ask for cosponsors. Dirksen deplores this custom since he thinks a bill should be considered on its own merits and not on how many sponsors it may attract.

But he had a bill he wanted to thrive and grow into law.

"I have pending," Dirksen said, "a resolution outlawing the entire business of cosponsorship. I think it is wicked. I think it is evil. I think it is unjustified. I think it is unwarranted. And if someone will hand me a copy of Roget's thesaurus, I shall pick about 100 other words to use in emphasizing my belief that cosponsorship of measures in the Senate is wrong."

Having isolated the virus, Dirksen bowed to the legislative facts of life and swallowed it.

Or in his more picturesque words: "So far as it now obtains, I may just as well become a part of that inequity and ask for cosponsorship."

Dirksen's cumulous sentences—they sometimes sound as if they were written by Robert Benchley for a script to be played by W.C. Fields — set him apart from the thundering oratorical herd. But he isn't the only senator with a tidy sense of the ridiculous.

Many congressmen, of course, are unwittingly laugh riots, even, or maybe especially, when they're trying to be serious. These are excluded from this report since, though they may have no sense of humor, they still may have firearms.

Generally, a senator refers to another senator only in superlatives. It's "my learned friend" this and "my distinguished colleague" that until they're up to their middles in froth.

But Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., who looks like what the Italians would have come up with had they invented pixies, occasionally slips in the needle. Here's the way he responded to a comment by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y.: "Of course, I can agree generally with the cliches uttered and the academic observations made by my good friend, but. . ."

Senate attendance is rarely large, but as the day wears on and the senators wear out, you often can count the senators present on one hand, with a finger or two left unemployed.

Which accounts for an exchange between Sen. Mike Mansfield, the Democratic leader from Montana, and Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.

Mansfield: "I think the senator is entitled to a larger audience than is present at this time."

"I do not know that I am entitled to it," Goldwater said reflectively, "because I do not know that the speaker or the brilliance of the remarks are such that they are entitled to a larger audience.

"But I get lonesome.

"The senator from Montana and I both come from Western states where we are used to standing in the broad expanses where there is nothing but the Lord and the wind.

"In this chamber sometimes we do not have the Lord present, but we always have wind present."

So the lonely Goldwater desisted until the next day, when presumably more senators would blow into the old wind chamber.

The House, with 437 members, has such severe time limitations there is little opportunity for calculated comedy. But the representatives do their best with the short time they have.

But some of Congress' gayest stuff never shows up on the floor at all. A congressman who reads something he likes can insert it in the appendix of the Congressional Record.

Congressmen love items that praise the home folk. So naturally Rep. James E. Bromwell, R-Iowa, was moved by a hymn of praise for Dubuque and inserted it. One verse, dedicated to the great men and women who make up this 87th Congress, reads:

"These men that we elect
Are men of intellect.
They represent the people the best they can.
No matter their ambition
They'll fight for freedom's mission
Should conflicts come between them and their duty."

This poem was written by Carole Whitehead, of San Antonio, who is 15. She seems like a nice girl who has a lot to learn, especially about congressmen.

Wednesday will be observed in the Twin Cities and throughout the nation as the 184th birthday of the United States Flag.

Locally both mayors have proclaimed the day and members of the Lt. Joseph Bowmar Post of the Children of the American Revolution will sell tiny replicas of the flag on downtown locations and in the Louisville Avenue shopping centers.

'RIDERS'

Twenty days have elapsed since the first busload of riders crossed the Mississippi line near Meridian and began the siege on Jackson. Since then 110 have been arrested. All have been convicted on breach of the peace, stemming from refusal to "move on" in response to police orders.

The testers of Deep South "Jim Crow" barriers in interstate travel have come to Jackson by bus, train and plane. Only the waiting room at the municipal airport is not segregated, but rest rooms and eating facilities are.

For the 110 arrested whites and Negroes sentences were light at first, carrying only $200 fines and 60 day suspended jail sentences. But, as tension mounted, City Judge James Spencer raised the sentences. The latest convictions carried maximum fine and jail sentences—$200 and four months.

In other racial developments:

—In Atlanta, Ga., more Freedom Rides were promised after a federal judge refused to prolong a temporary restraining order against the anti-segregation activities in Alabama.

The Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker said inter-racial groups of students and adults would resume the rides to Montgomery, Ala., and Jackson. He said the Montgomery office for the Freedom Ride Coordinating Committee would reopen within 24 hours.

amount previously allowed in the monthly check to direct payments to the doctor, druggist or hospital, complete major medical care will be provided for all Old Age Assistance recipients suffering from a serious illness.

In the case of approximately 3,000 recipients with special medical needs, this means that instead of receiving an average of $17 per month in their monthly checks, they will receive complete medical services by the physician of their choice, medication which he prescribes, and hospitalization when necessary.

For an additional 47,000 persons who have income in addition to their grants, complete major medical care when needed will be provided instead of an average allotment in the check of just $4.25 per month for medical care.

About 75,000 recipients who have no outside income will have no change in their monthly checks but will also be eligible for complete major medical services when needed.

The extent to which the recipient stands to benefit is illustrated in the case of Mr. A. Age 70 and suffering from a serious heart condition. He formerly received a maximum monthly welfare grant of $95, even though his medical needs alone amounted to $50. Out of the $95, he had to spend $78 for rent, food, clothing and a few other necessities. That left just $17 for doctor and drug bills.

In Atlanta, the Rev. He said the rides will be continued this week.

Farm Spokesmen Said Big Question

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the issue slowing progrwess of the Kennedy administration's farm program in Congress is the question of who should speak for the farmer.

Some critics of the legislation contend it would make the secretary of agriculture and men picked by him the spokesmen. These people argue that leaders chosen by farmers through their own private farm organizations should do the speaking, not politicians.

This controversy is not new. It has bobbed up from time to time ever since the government entered the field of farm economics with precedent-breaking crop control and price supports programs back in the 1930s.

Raising the issue in connection with the Kennedy farm bill are the influential American Farm Bureau Federation and several commodity farm groups opposed to the measure.

The bill would shift from congressional committees to the Agriculture Department the task of formulating detailed farm programs to stabilize prices and supplies of agricultural commodities. The secretary of agriculture, acting with the advice of farmer advisory committees selected by him from farmer-nominees and farm organizations, would have authority to draft individual commodity supply control programs.

These programs would go into effect if not vetoed by either house of Congress within 60 days and if approved by two-thirds of the affected producers voting in referenda.

This would bring about a sharp change in the process of farm program making. In the past the job was done largely by the House and Senate Agriculture Committees, after holding hearings at which farmers and their own organizations as well as farm officials and other interested persons were permitted to state their views and recommendations.

Bills approved by these committees would go before the two houses where they were debated. Friends and foes alike had a chance to try to influence individual members of Congress to vote their way.

Under the Kennedy administration's plan, the secretary of agriculture would decide, in the first place, whether there was need for a program for any specific commodity. He would be the first spokesman. If he decided there was, he would appoint an advisory committee to work with him in drafting one.

Members of these committees would be appointed by the secretary from nominees made by the agricultural stabilization and conservation committees which serve as agents of the government in administering farm programs. The Farm Bureau claims these committeemen tend to speak more for the administration in power than for the farmer.

Other committee members would be selected by the secretary from farm organizations, but they would be in the minority. Critics of the Kennedy program contend there would be no assurance that the farm organization representatives chosen for this purpose would be true spokesmen for farmers.

Some farm leaders — including Farm Bureau officials — contend the secretary of agriculture should not take the leadership in farm-program making. They argue his job should be confined to administering programs enacted by Congress at the suggestion of farmers through their own spokesmen and organizations. They say the secretary should make recommendations only when asked by congressional committees to do so.

They contend that organized labor, for instance, would not tolerate formulation of committees by the secretary of labor to draft legislation and programs for the benefit of organized workers. Neither, they add, would business permit the secretary of commerce to speak for it.

Those on the other side of this "who-speaks-for-the-farmer" issue come back with the argument that farmers' organizations are so hopelessly divided on what should be done to help agriculture that the secretary of agriculture must assume leadership.

The National Grange and the National Farmers Union say they fear political domination of farmers under the Kennedy program.

Naturally, there is strong reluctance among members of Congress to give the secretary of agriculture — a political appointee — a bigger voice in speaking for farmers than he now has. Yet, many lawmakers look longingly for a farm spokesman they can depend upon. Seldom do farmers' own organizations go before Congress with a unified voice on farm matters.

Then came a series of conferences with Republican party leaders and workers and a news conference.

The windup was a $100-a-plate dinner at Cincinnati's Music Hall with a packed house of 1,500 on hand.

Sen. Thruston Morton of Kentucky, who recently resigned as chairman of the Republican National Committee, was the principal speaker. He called upon the Kennedy administration to define the boundaries beyond which communism would not be tolerated.

"If we want peace in our time we must draw the line," Morton said. "I don't know where the line is; the administration must find it. But we can't stand this constant erosion.

"Tell us your policy. Tell us where to draw the line. We'll measure up. Don't worry about us Republicans."

Use Our Club Plan: 6 months to pay . . . No carrying charges

"I HATE THE WORLD", says the tatto on the arm of James Douglas Latham, 19, Mauriceville, Tex. He and 18 year-old George Ronald York, left, Jacksonville, Fla., beside him are shown as they told newsmen today in Salt Lake City, of a string of seven-robbery-killings in five states. (AP Wirephoto)

AWOLs Blame Army For Killing Urge

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) —Two teen-agers, in a tale of tragic irony, say they embarked on seven slayings in five states because as long as they had killed one "we might as well keep on."

But the man they thought they had killed didn't die. Had they quit there, they wouldn't be facing murder charges.

There's another irony. Both James Douglas Latham, 19, Mauriceville, Tex., and George Ronald York, 18, Jacksonville, Fla., say they want to die. They'd prefer the electric chair. But the states with seemingly the strongest cases execute by other means —Kansas by hanging and Colorado by the gas chamber.

What started it? The Army, they claimed at a news conference in Salt Lake County jail Monday. They complained about army harassment. They objected to racial integration in the Army and to serving under Negro officers.

Though they expressed some offhand regret for some of the killings, they didn't for the slaying of John A. Whitaker, an elderly Negro railroad porter in Tullahoma, Tenn., who was robbed and shot to death.

"He was black," York explained. And Latham added: "We don't feel bad about killing a nigger."

Both are AWOL from the Army. They fled a disciplinary unit at Fort Hood, Tex., May 24. Latham was serving six months and was to get a bad-conduct discharge for taking $40 from a fellow soldier. York had been given six months for being AWOL.

"We got what we were working for," said York, "to get out of this stinking rat race on the outside."

But York said he doubted they would have killed anyone else if they had known that Edward J. Guidroz, the man slugged and left for dead near Baton Rouge, La., had survived.

"We wanted to put them out of their miseries," York said of the victims. "The only two I felt a little sorry for—I thought they were halfway decent — were the railroad men in Illinois and Kansas."

That would be Albert E. Reed, 35, Litchfield, Ill., killed near Edwardsville, Ill., June 8, and Otto Ziegler, 62, railroad roadmaster killed near Wallace, Kan., next day.

York said the other victim in Illinois, service station operator Martin Drenovac, 69, of Granite City, probably wouldn't have been killed, "except he tried to take the gun away."

They also admitted killing two women near Jacksonville, Fla., May 29. The victims were Althea Ottavio, 43, and Patricia Anne Hewitt, 25, both of Valdosta, Ga.

The final victim, killed only hours before the two were captured at a Utah roadblock Saturday, was Rachel Marian Moyer, 18, a hotel worker at Craig, Colo.

How did it feel, killing people?

"It was a pretty easy thing to do," said York.

Explosions Again Rock South Tyrol

BOLZANO, Italy (AP) — Two new dynamite explosions toppled more electric power pylons in the troubled South Tyrol area early today, further cutting power to the region.

The new blasts came shortly after midnight near the villages of Termeno and Appiano.

No one was injured, but the Bolzano deputy state attorney, Leonardo D'Alessandro, 46, died of a heart attack shortly after making a pre-dawn inspection of the wrecked pylons.

Police found powerful unexploded charges at the base of two massive dams in the Aurina and Passiria valleys. The charges, said police, were big enough to blast huge gaps in the dams, threatening the homes and lives of 15,000 inhabitants of the two valleys.

More than 300 steel power pylons were toppled by a pre-dawn wave of explosions Monday that cut power over a wide area, took the life of a road worker and terrified thousands.

The dynamitings generally were blamed on pro-Austrian elements. Italian newspapers reacted angrily, calling the sabotage "Nazi dynamitings" and "criminal acts."

Police questioned more than 100 German-speaking residents and arrested four men.

Warning Issued On Contempt Citations

By CHARLOTTE G. MOULTON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court has warned legislators and the Justice Department again about a rule that must be followed to make contempt of Congress convictions stick.

The rule deals with the pertinency of questions put to witnesses by congressional investigators. If the question has nothing to do with the investigation, the witness can't be convicted for refusing to answer it.

On this ground, the court Monday by a 5-4 vote set aside the contempt conviction of Berhard Deutch, a nuclear physicist of Springfield, Pa. Deutch joined the Communist party at 19 when a student at Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y. He said he has since left it.

In an effort to adjourn for its current term next Monday, the court turned out a batch of decisions, including one of vital importance to the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC).

UPHOLDS AEC LICENSING

The court ruled 7-2 that the commission need not make the same safety of operations findings when it issues a building permit for an atomic power reactor as it does when it actually licenses the operation.

The opinion, by Justice William J. Brennan Jr., upheld the AEC's step-by-step licensing procedure, which had been challenged by labor unions as endangering the population of areas where reactors are located.

The contempt case stemmed from Deutch's appearance in 1954 before a House subcommittee on unamerican activities. He told his story to the subcommittee, but refused to identify the person who asked him to join the party.

He also withheld information about others connected with the party five years earlier at Cornell.

The landmark decision on pertinency was handed down by the Supreme Court in the 1957 case of Illinois labor leader John T. Watkins, who likewise refused to inform on others.

The court then held that a reluctant witness must be told what subject is under investigation and how the questions put to him relate to it. Watkins had not been so informed.

Lana's Daughter In Trouble Again; Goes Into Hiding

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) —Cheryl Crane, 17, the daughter of movie star Lana Turner, was in trouble again today—this time for partying with two teen-age girl friends, police disclosed.

The girl disappeared from home Monday following her arrest and subsequent release to the custody of her mother, but Miss Turner said, "She's gone away for a few days—just to think things over."

Cheryl's arrest came at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Mildred Turner, after a neighbor's call had brought police to the scene.

Juvenile authorities said they knew where she was and did not consider her missing, even though she was supposed to show up for questioning at police headquarters Monday.

It was another in a long series of scrapes with authorities for Cheryl, a slender blonde who stabbed underworld figure Johnny Stompanato to death in 1958 in her mother's bedroom.

She was sent to El Retiro School for Girls at Sylhar, Calif., and ran away several times during her 11 months there.

She was arrested early Monday at the home of her grandmother along with Rachel Sanchez, 18, who was dressed in mannish shirt and slacks, and a 16-year-old who knew Cheryl as an inmate of El Retiro.

Police said the 16-year-old girl appeared to have been drinking and the Sanchez girl was hiding in a closet.

Cheryl, a ward of the court, said she had met the girls in a Hollywood Boulevard restaurant and taken them to her grandmother's home. Cheryl had been living with her mother and stepfather Fred May at their Malibu home.

Officers said Cheryl admitted drinking a scotch and water.

Miss Sanchez was arraigned before Municipal Judge Henry H. Draeger on two counts.

Police Handle Forty Felony Cases In May

Forty felony cases were among the 399 handled by the Monroe police department during May, Chief James C. Kelly, Jr., said today. Twenty-five of the felonies and 315 of the misdemeanor cases were closed.

Stolen property for the month totaled $18,353.89, $10,000 of which was taken in the armed robbery of Weingarten's Supermarket on Louisville Avenue. One of the two men involved in the armed robbery has been apprehended; the second is still at large.

Also hit during May was Gibson's Wholesale, 1900 Louisville Avenue, which netted the party or parties about $4,000.

The largest number of offenses among the misdemeanors was public drunkenness with 119. Twenty-one persons were charged with gambling; 57 with theft; 24 with driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages; and 24 with illegal use of weapons.

Court fines of $27,437 were assessed with $14,307 collected.

Radical Minarities Poor Spokesmen

With all the visible impact of a planned "freedom riders" facing us, the majority of U. S. citizens are apt to get the false impression that these groups speak for most Negroes.

Measured in numbers, these mixed groups — which now number more whites than Negroes — amount to a small handful when total population areas are considered. The number of "riders" arrested in Jackson, Mississippi, has passed the 100-mark. But in the 11 states of the South there are approximately 10,000,000 Negroes.

There are no figures on the number of Negroes in the Congress of Racial Equality, but they would make up only a tiny fraction of the population. The latest census report gave a total of 18,900,000 Negroes in the United States with a fractional 387,000 in the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

It is significant that most of these were concentrated in the cities of Detroit, Chicago, Cleveland, Philadelphia, Washington, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, New York, St. Louis and Los Angeles.

This does not mean that those who do not demonstrate are fully satisfied with their lot. Yet they are also not anxious to upset time-honored traditions which have maintained racial peace in the South for nearly a century. It is significant to point out this state of peace has been the rule rather than the exception in most southern cities.

Actually, the Negro majority finds itself caught in a squeeze between a generally peaceful disposition and the recent agitations. This situation has been magnified by the spread of sit-in demonstrations and picketing at southern stores. The same holds true for the attempted integration of several southern schools.

In some localities, Negro church services have given way to politico-social harangues on the model of the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. Other public gatherings may take on a similar tone.

The NAACP and CORE organizations have enough meanness behind their trimmings of piety and legality to be instigating "minorities within the minority." As a result there are some young Negroes from the South who have turned their backs on the homefolks in favor of what they consider a crusade for mixing the races.

These youngsters have not as yet come to realize that they must live in some degree of harmony with the Anglo-Saxon traditions established by the U. S. majority.

Viewed aside from white minorities who tend to boil over in a time of crisis, the racial issue in the South is not nearly so tense as it is in the North. Especially is this true when the overall effect of the "disturbers of the peace" now concentrating on the city of Jackson, Mississippi, is considered.

The NAACP and CORE organizations may have numbers and political power in up to a dozen northern cities. But in the South itself, sensible and peaceful Negroes stay away from such groups and avoid their leanings.

U.S. Communists Issue Ultimatum

What amounted to an ultimatum was issued to Attorney General Robert Kennedy over the past weekend.

The Communist Party of the United States told the 34-year-old Kennedy to leave the party alone and turn his attention to enforcing civil rights in the South.

Recent events figure in the background of the party's "tough talk." One was the 5-4 decision of the Supreme Court to require membership and officer lists of the Communist Party of the United States. As if to support that decision — and gain support of the millions of U. S. citizens who were pleasantly surprised over it — the Attorney General said he would seek a fine of $10,000 each day it failed to register as a tool of a foreign power.

But party leader Gus Hall said the party would not comply. Later the party's national executive committee took the position that Kennedy had better confine his activities to backing up "freedom riders" and investigating southern registrars of voting.

The U. S. Communist Party had plenty of time for consultation with Moscow on the issue before telling the Attorney General to "lay off."

It will be interesting to see if the Kremlin can tell a top U. S. official what he should and should not do.

Kennedy Talk On Vienna Meet Has Congressmen Puzzled

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy by his television address has left many members of Congress puzzled. What did he really tell Soviet Premier Khrushchev? Is the United States now committed to go to war over the defense of West Berlin? Did Mr. Kennedy threaten war, or did he imply that America would not take any military steps if the Soviet Union makes a peace treaty with East Germany and leaves the matter of Allied access to West Berlin up to the East Germans?

The President was abstract and general in his statements on the air. He did not reveal exactly what he said or what Mr. Khrushchev told him on these vital issues.

Mr. Kennedy, moreover, didn't tell the American people on Tuesday night about the two memoranda on the Berlin, disarmament, and nuclear test problems which Mr. Khrushchev brought to the conference. Only after news dispatches from Bonn disclosed this on Wednesday did the State Department confirm that such memoranda had been given to Mr. Kennedy.

NO AIMS STATED

In his television address, Mr. Kennedy said that "no new aims were stated in private that have not been stated in public on either side."

Who is to be the judge of the meaning of that statement, especially when there is no record available even to Congress on what was said by either Mr. Kennedy or Mr. Khrushchev? If nothing new was stated and, as Mr. Kennedy now says, "No major decisions were either planned or taken," then what were the several hours of private discussion about? Why was the trip undertaken?

The President gave as his reason that he wanted to find out first hand what Mr. Khrushchev thinks. He did not care to rely on what his ambassadors or what President Eisenhower told him after many years of experience with the Soviets. Also, Mr. Kennedy says he wished to "present our views directly, precisely, realistically, and with an opportunity for discussion and clarification."

Yet hardly any details of what went on during that "discussion" have thus far been revealed. If Mr. Kennedy says he sought to state America's position "precisely," it is important that the Congress be told just what those "precise" positions are today. The few members of the House or Senate who were "briefed" on Tuesday afternoon at the White House learned little more than what was said by Mr. Kennedy in his television address.

The President added to the mystery of why the meeting with the Soviet Premier was ever undertaken when he said in his Tuesday night speech:

"Neither of us was there to dictate a settlement or to convert the other to a cause, or to concede our basic interests."

One wonders now whether the President really felt beforehand, too, that there was no use trying to "convert" the Soviet leader to a belief in peace — or anything else.

It is evident, however, that the issue of peace or war was discussed. In fact, there is a hint or threat of possible war in the following section of Mr. Kennedy's speech:

"But our most sober talks were on the subject of Germany and Berlin. I made it clear to Mr. Khrushchev that the security of Western Europe and, therefore, our own security are deeply involved in our presence and our access rights to West Berlin, that those rights are based on law and not on sufferance, and that we are determined to maintain those rights at any risk, and thus meet our obligation to the people of West Berlin, and their right to choose their own future.

"Mr. Khrushchev in turn presented his views in detail and his presentation will be the subject of future communications, but we are not seeking to change the present situation. A binding German peace treaty is a matter for all who were at war with Germany, and we and our Allies cannot abandon our obligations to the people of West Berlin."

Does this mean that while the Allies are naturally advocating no change "in the present situation," they are fully aware that the Soviets intend to sign a peace treaty with East Germany, thereby passing the responsibility to that country for handling "access rights" to West Berlin?

There are rumors already that while Mr. Kennedy made no "concessions," he gave the impression that the Allies would not go to war merely over the signing of a peace treaty between the Soviets and East Germany. This impression, if conveyed by Mr. Kennedy, could have caused Mr. Khrushchev to do his "dancing" stunt in Moscow on his return there. But then, it will be asked, what was meant by the firm statement in the President's speech that the Allies "are determined to maintain those rights at any risk and thus meet our obligation to the people of West Berlin"?

The contradiction may be due to a desire on the President's part not to meet the issue militarily until an overt act by East Germany challenges Allied rights in West Berlin.

Meanwhile, Congressional committees will not have the opportunity to interrogate the President in the same comprehensive way they could cross-examine a Secretary of State at the Capitol. Although Mr. Kennedy conducted the conversations alone with Mr. Khrushchev for lengthy periods during the meeting in Vienna, Mr. Kennedy can hold himself aloof from revealing to a Congressional committee everything that happened.

This means that the representatives of the American people will not get all the facts about any commitments or promises made by the President when he became his own ambassador and presented his views to Mr. Khrushchev "directly, precisely, realistically. There is no precise" record, therefore, or detailed statement of the American position available today either to the Congress or to the American people as a result of the Vienna meeting.

Administration Masses Weapons To Push Education Bill

By FULTON LEWIS, JR.

WASHINGTON — The Administration is using every weapon at its disposal to assure House passage of its $2.5 billion federal aid to education bill.

Wavering legislators report White House pressure is stronger on this one issue than any other all session. Dangling in front of reluctant Congressmen are 73 federal judgeships that the Administration has been empowered to fill.

The not - so - subtle message passed on the Hill is that the judges will not be named until after the federal aid vote.

Congressmen report that mail from home is heavy, and obviously the result of an organized campaign. One legislator from a small district received more than 60 letters in a single day asking him to support the Administration bill. All but two were an identical mimeographed message.

The letters urged the Congressmen to back federal aid so that American education could be "salvaged." Statistics of the National Education Association — the number one teachers' lobby in the country—buttressed the case.

Of note to uncommitted Congressmen should be a recent resolution passed by the National School Boards Association, which represents 90 percent of the nation's school directors.

Meeting at their annual convention in Philadelphia last month, the delegates overwhelmingly approved a resolution that opposed "further extension of federal aid to education until the school boards of America express the need for such funds."

It is noteworthy that not a single school board in the country has expressed support of the Administration's sweeping aid proposal.

It was the first time in the organization's history that the NSBA had taken a stand on the school aid question. Opposition to the bill was summed up by a Louisiana delegate, J. D. Waggoner, Jr., who declared his state did not need federal funds.

"Controls will come with federal aid," he said, voicing a common fear among the nation's school chieftains.

Waggoner, incidentally, was unaware of a master plan for federal control now circulating in the offices of the United States Office of Education.

Copies of the plan have recently slipped into Congressional hands and even those committed to the federal aid concept have expressed shock at its far-reaching implications. The plan, labeled confidential, bears the ponderous title, "A Federal Education Agency for the Future."

It was drafted for Sterling M. McMurrin, Commissioner of Education, by the USOE Committee on Mission and Organization, headed by Homer D. Babbidge, Jr., Assistant Commissioner for Higher Education.

The report calls for creation of a new agency "to monitor all federal educational activity" and to be called the United States Education Agency.

25 Years Ago

Here are the events which made news 25 years ago today in the June 13, 1936, issue of the Monroe News-Star:

The Ouachita chapter of the Red Cross issued a warning against swimming in the Ouachita River during the period while the municipal pool is closed. The resolution pointed to dangers caused by the constant shifting of the river bed.

The new city directory for Monroe and West Monroe was reported ready for distribution by the Interstate Directory company, headed by C. B. Page. It was the first such directory to appear here since 1933.

On the national scene, Governor Alfred M. Landon of Kansas was nominated as the Republican candidate for president at the party's convention in Cleveland.

'Bleeding Hearts' Invade South

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

JACKSON, Miss., — It is a mocking comment on the mawkish generosity of the American character that bands of insipid futilities of the type called bleeding hearts can invade one of the finest American cities and arouse a bawling national uproar of inshame. This the so-called freedom riders have done in Jackson, a really fine American city. Its history and moral and patriotic traditions have been watered by bloodthirsty Boston patrioteers, and its reputation has been smeared by enemies in New York who live by hate while yowling their pity for victims of hatred.

SURPRISE

In Montgomery and Birmingham, Ala., surprise caught the police off guard, and these errors were studied in Jackson for the peace of the community and the pride of a sensitive homeland. There may be other American cities as tender of their precious heritage, but New York is not one of them. There are only a few native families whose members love New York with the unspeakable affection that inspires Jackson, the capital of Mississippi. I know of Irish in New York whose immigrant forebears were socially and racially almost unemployable within the last century who still doggedly love their harassed and degraded city, but every hour, and at almost every corner, they seem to remember that New York is not a beloved home of conscientious people as Jackson is, but a mysterious labyrinth of sinister strangers who fear one another.

Today I went to the city jail to try to learn from some of the prisoners taken in the miserable fraud called freedom riders just what freedom they desired that was denied them.

Most of them come from northern communities where they may associate freely across the color line, which has no existence. A white man or woman can go to a public toilet in a bus station there without the slightest notice to say nothing of opposition. So they decided, under organized incitation from offices in New York, to travel a thousand miles, to deprive themselves of that freedom and invite personal assault by taunting the people of Jackson.

M. B. Pierce (they use initials as first names down here), the chief of detectives, took me up to the city jail and the first prisoner who was let into a little bare room was a pale, frail boy of 21, Charles David Myers, of Noblesville, Ind. He had springs of wispy whiskers and the start of beatnik sideburns although they all are allowed to shave. He said he was a Quaker whose soul suffered at the thought that someone (God, of necessity) had created a difference between him and his dark brethren. So he put himself into Central State College at Wilberforce, Ohio, with 2,000 students, formerly all Negroes but now infiltrated with 200 whites.

It does not follow that 1,800 Negroes enjoy such a bore or feel that assimilation to Myers improves their condition. He said his best friend was Fred Wilt, the agent in charge of the FBI Bureau at Lafayette, Ind., who was his track coach. He drew moral strength from Mr. Wilt, who also had been his track coach at high school. Oh, so he was an athlete? What was his sport? Myers is a cross-country man, member of a cult of eccentrics who are looked upon by other athletes, even other track men, a screwballs.

His father is a laborer and his mother is a household servant. Their family life is pleasant and poverty is not their lot.

Central State was a school where he would not be asked his race or color. But it wasn't necessity to ask the obvious.

SHAPELESS FATE

He thought Franklin Roosevelt had been the nearest thing to a dictator in our history, but he approved because it has been necessary to save us from a shapeless fate in emergencies.

"Do you agree that Roosevelt created his emergencies for the purpose?" I asked. He had not thought of that. He is a Christian but devoted to total Democracy to be achieved hundreds of years hence. But was Christ a Democrat? Did Jesus ever poll a meeting or consult public opinion? Charlie Myers was at a loss for any instance and he would never fight any enemy with violence.

Why had he come to Mississippi — possibly to strike a spark of hatred to light a holocaust in an innocent community of human beings who also loved Jesus? I asked him if he had ever heard of the terrible Chicago race riot started by such a spark when a white boy hit a Negro boy with a thrown stone at Hyde Park beach. Did he know that 500 innocents were hurt and 30 died for that mere mishap? He had never heard of it.

President Faces Stormy World

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — The last half of this century is like living through a perpetual thunderstorm, waiting for the next lightning bolt.

And for President Kennedy, now nearly five months in office, there's been steady rain on the roof, with few patches of sunlight.

He's gotten along well with Congress. But he inherited multiple dilemmas overseas and he's solved none of them.

It is difficult now to point to a single Kennedy achievement in foreign affairs unless perhaps in establishing better relations with the European allies.

Take a look:

1. He inherited the problem of Fidel Castro's Cuba — a constant trouble spot for the Unites States, if not a menace.

REBEL INVASION

Kennedy approved the rebel invasion against Castro. It ended in disaster. And just because of it and because the United States lost prestige and is unlikely to try rough stuff again soon, Castro looks more solid than ever.

2. Kennedy inherited the dilemma of Laos where the Communist-supported Pathet Lao forces were slowly taking over the country. They stepped up their pace since Kennedy took office and he has found no way to stop them.

3. He hoped through a conference with the Russians and others at Geneva at least to get a cease-fire in Laos and agreement on a neutral government. The Communists haves made hash of that notion in a way most bitter for Kennedy.

Just this week, in his TV broadcast immediately after returning from a talk with Soviet Premier Khrushchev, Kennedy said they had agreed Laos should be free and neutral and that both wanted a cease-fire.

But in Laos the pro - Communists forces kept fighting until at Geneva the United States called their action a "blatant violation" of attempts at a cease-fire. The Geneva talks are in danger of breaking down.

4. At Geneva, also, Kennedy had hoped to negotiate with the Russians an agreement ending nuclear testing. The Russians made so much hash of these talks that agreement now seems impossible.

5. In South Viet Nam, where the government is supported and supplied by the United States, Communist guerrillas from North Viet Nam are putting the southern government in increasing jeopardy by stepping up their warfare.

6. In South Korea, where the United States supported and supplied the civilian government which it seemed to think was doing all right, Korean military leaders threw out the civilians and took over.

CORRUPTION

One of their main excuses: To wipe out "corruption." The net result, even though the new Korean military rulers express friendship for the United States, is an end to democratic government.

7. In the Middle East, Iran, right next door to the Soviet Union but helped by the United States, looks more wobbly than ever. Here, too, there was a government shake-up to end corruption.

Kennedy told congressional leaders that Khrushchev predicted to him that Iran would be lost to the West, although disclaiming any Soviet part in it.

8. In his TV talk Kennedy made it clear he told Khrushchev the United States would not let the Communist world shut off West Berlin, one of the most delicate of all spots in the West-East struggle.

Khrushchev apparently gave him no comfort. And Thursday Russia began stirring up a storm about Berlin, claiming the West German government is building trouble in West Berlin which, although linked to West Germany, lies in East Germany.

Kennedy is 44 now. There is thunder on all his horizons. Communism is cocky, confident, pushing. There's no let-up in sight anywhere. Kennedy has a remarkable head of hair. There should be a lot of gray in it before his first term ends.

My Answer

BY BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: All my life I have wanted to be good, but something within me hinders me. I get up in the morning saying: "I will not be angry today; I will not be selfish today," but when night comes my vows are unfulfilled. What is wrong with me?

J.S.

ANSWER: Your goals are good, but your means of attaining those goals are a bit in error. If you wanted to repair your roof, you wouldn't say: "I must jump upon that roof and fix it." You would first get a ladder and ascend to the roof in a practical and conventional manner.

The Bible teaches that we need help to measure up to our ideals. God is the Ladder by which we ascend to higher heights. Paul said: "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me." There was a time when he said: "When I would do good, evil is present." Then he discovered that he needed Christ to overcome evil, and when Christ came to abide in his life, the things that seemed unattainable were altogether possible. Christ saves us from the evil within ourselves and causes us to triumph over it.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

MODERN DRUGS ARE COMPLEX

It is safe to say that 90 per cent of the drugs used today were not available when I graduated from medical school. These products have replaced most of the old-timers that did no harm—and, in many instances, no good.

The newcomers are more specific and powerful and they do good; unless used properly, they may do harm. Times have changed and medicines never should be taken without direction. This is particularly true of prescription products that are so designated by the government because of their potential danger.

Reactions to drugs are common. A certain percentage of our population is sensitive to certain chemicals in medicines and develop hives, rashes, itching, or fever when they are taken. Corticosteroids such as cortisone relieve pain and swelling in arthritis as well as wheezing in asthma. But the patients may develop diabetes, peptic ulcer, or a mental disturbance. These side effects are temporary and disappear when cortisone is discontinued.

The blood cells may be destroyed by certain sedatives, the sulfonamides, pain killers, and drugs used in the treatment of malaria, epilepsy, or toxic goiter. The physician handles this prbolem by advising periodic blood counts. In this way he knows what the medication is doing and is able to stop it before anemia develops.

Drugs such as the anticoagulants lead to bleeding when used improperly. The modern diuretics create many odd side effects when the kidneys eliminate potassium along with the increased secretion of fluid.

Some of the side effects of drugs may be used to advantage. The antihistamines, for example, are helpful in allergy but they produce drowsiness that limits their usefulness for those who drive a car and work daily. But this drowsiness comes in handy for those who need a sedative or a remedy for motion sickness.

DRUGS AND STROKES

M. W. writes: If a person has had a stroke, will he have to take pills the rest of his life?

REPLY

The answer depends upon the cause of the stroke. Some physicians recommend anticoagulant drugs when the stroke was caused by a clot. But these compounds would be contraindicated if brain hemorrhage were responsible. Tablets that lower blood pressure, on the other hand, may be needed. Send stamped, self - addressed envelope for leaflet on the different types of stroke.

HEIR OR HAIR?

Mrs. S. C. writes: Someone told me the reason a child is born with a hair lip is because there was a hair in the uterus, which the baby contacted. What is your opinion.?

REPLY

Your friend is misinformed, altho the uterus during pregnancy always harbors a potential heir. You girls have made this error because of a mistake in spelling. It is harelip, so-named because the defect resembles the upper lip of a hare or rabbit.

THEATING PARASITES

L. H. writes: What is the best treatment for a parasitical infection?

REPLY

The physician isolates the causative organisms and makes tests to determine which antibiotic or sulfonamide will kill the offender. In some instances, surgery may be needed to eliminate or drain away the discharges from the infection.

STARVED HEART

Mrs. E. B. writes: What is ischemia of the heart?

REPLY

A condition in which the heart muscle does not get enough blood because the coronary arteries are narrowed. This local starvation causes angina pectoris.

FOR STATE FIREMEN

Failure Of Pay Increase Rapped

Gov. Jimmie H. Davis could find money for firemen and "other deserving people" by eliminating the $50 per day interim committees for legislators, Sen. Jamar Adcock of Monroe believes.

"My personal opinion is that the governor should take a personal interest to eliminate the condition in which legislators double - dip through $50 per day interim committees," Adcock said.

He explained that he was "deeply disappointed" that Davis vetoed a $1.1 - million appropriation for firemens' pay yesterday.

"Our very lives and property depend on these people," Adcock said.

Adcock handled the firemen's pay raise measure on the floor of the Senate reminding the administration that the governor promised the firemen a pay raise when he was campaigning for office.

"By abolishing the interim committees, the governor could take the money the state would save and help pay the firemen or other deserving people," Adcock said.

He sponsored a resolution to abolish the interim committees, but the Senate rejected the proposal by a 10-20 vote.

Seek Funds To Finish Barge Channel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress will be asked next year for money to complete the Baton Rouge, La., barge channel.

Rep. James Morrison, D-La., and Woodrow W. Dumas, chairman of the Greater Baton Rouge Port Committee, gave a progress report before a House appropriations subcommittee Monday.

The first 2½ miles of the 5-mile channel and port project have been completed at a cost of $1,180,941, of which local interests contributed $649,517.55. In addition, Dumas told the subcommittee, local interests provided all rights of way and undertook to finance maintenance operation.

Also, he said, the port commission built the barge terminal at a cost of $3,667,097.

EXPENSIVE BALLOONS

OSHKOSH, Wis. (UPI) —Municipal Judge Arnold J. Cane fined an Oshkosh mother $50 Monday for stealing $3.25 worth of party balloons.

Mrs. Betty Patterson told cane she stole the balloons because she ran out of money buying party supplies for her children.

Pool Closed After Negroes Try Entry

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — Police closed a city park swimming pool when two Negro youths sought to use the facility.

Three squad cars carrying five officers, including Chief Sidney Barnes, were summoned when the Negroes appeared Monday. A crowd gathered and there were remarks by children but there was no violence and no arrests.

One of the Negroes has been involved frequently in anti-segregation demonstrations.

The city has a swimming pool for Negroes but it has been closed for repairs.

Treasury Issues Phone Call Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon has laid down the law for his department: there shall be no recording of telephone calls to or from the Treasury without the knowledge of the other party.

It was learned today that Dillon issued the new policy statement June 9. The practice, which Dillon called "monitoring," is thought to be fairly widespread in government offices.

"Telephone eavesdropping" is the term applied to the practice by Rep. John E. Moss. D-Calif.

Moss, chairman of the House Government Information subcommittee, got into the act when a subcommittee staff member discovered during a call to the Treasury that his words were being taken down, unbeknownst to him, by a secretary on an extension.

The subcommittee staffer said he asked the Treasury official, Joseph F. Worley, if it was a usual procedure to secretly record a telephone conversation, and was told it was. Moss fired off a couple of letters to Dillon, and the new policy directive followed. It was not made public by the Treasury, but became known through Moss' subcommittee.

In his directive, Dillon said "monitoring, as used here, means recording of the conversation through the use of mechanical equipment or a stenographer for the purpose of producing a verbatim record of what was said."

In an accompanying letter to Moss, Dillon said "I am advised that electronic equipment to record telephone conversations is not used in the Treasury Department, nor are secretaries in the habit of making verbatim transcriptions without advising the other party to the conversation."

In his order to all department officials, Dillon made this reservation to his general ban on telephone eavesdropping:

"Officials of the Treasury Department shall have individual discretion as to whether they will permit secretaries to listen and record names, dates, summaries, or similar material, but verbatim transcriptions of telephone conversations shall be made only when both parties to the conversation agree that this is necessary."

Fire Threatening Fishing Villages Under Control

HARE BAY, Nfld. (UPI) — A forest fire that threatened to destroy two tiny Newfoundland fishing villages appeared to be under control today.

Fire officials said the battle against the blaze could be considered won if no sudden wind blows up.

The fire destroyed six miles of timberland before encircling Hare Bay and nearby Dover, forcing the evacuation of all women and children — more than 100 persons altogether.

Sheer determination by more than 1,000 tough Newfoundland fishermen and firemen was credited with halting the inferno as it edged toward the towns' homes and shops.

Many of the townspeople used buckets of water to fight the blaze and save their cottages.

The women and children removed to Gander 10 miles away Monday night began to return at dawn.

Fire officials said the men were about to give up their battle when there was a drop in the wind and they began to make headway in halting the flames.

Twenty-one pumps still were playing water on the fire and many of the men dropped to the ground exhausted and slept where they fell.

Fire officials said the fire which sprang up at 10 a.m. EDT Monday was believed under control at 4 a.m. today. No one was injured by the blaze. There were no estimates of damage.

During the height of the fire all roads to the stricken area were blocked and the only escape route for the town's 450 inhabitants was by a narrow sea channel banked by flaming timber or by helicopter.

Hefty Power Toss Blacks Out City Area

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — Steve Hardina, 14, says he is giving up baton twirling.

A mighty toss sent Steve's baton so high in the air that it struck two 4,000-volt power lines, with these consequences:

A 10 block area of the city was blacked out for an hour.

A grass fire was started.

A radio station was knocked off the air.

"I was only trying to toss the baton as high as the power pole, like the man in the circus," Steve explained after Sunday night's fireworks.

Many Americans Are Now Holding Down Two Jobs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — About 3 million Americans are holding two or more jobs, according to a Labor Department survey. This is called "moonlighting."

Postal workers, male school teachers, farmers, policemen and firemen are more likely to double in brass than other workers, the survey said. But it gave little support to some union leaders who have warned that "moonlighting" would undercut union standars and create unemployment.

Ofifcials of the machinists' union have called for an end to the practice.

The report showed that 1 in 20 workers — 4.5 per cent of the labor force — held two or more jobs.

"Moonlighters . . . are typically thought of as factory workers who, having achieved a short workweek through union contract, prefer to work at a second job rather than to enjoy greater leisure," the report said.

"Actually, in December, 1959, out of 3 million workers with more than one job, only 700,000 were factory workers on their primary job. They represented about 4 per cent of the total with a primary job in manufacturing."

The report showed that low-paid family breadwinners specialize in dual job-holding.

Six out of every 100 men from age 25 to 34 were "moonlighting" when the survey was made—the highest rate for any group.

Men who were elementary or high school teachers were very very likely to have second jobs, the department found.

"About one in five of the half million teachers below the college level were also working at something else," it said.

Rockefeller Says Riders Quietly Asking For Rights

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, characterizing Freedom Riders as persons "asking in a quick way for their rights," says it is time this country made "a living reality out of the basic precepts" on which it was founded.

Rockefeller said Negroes had been patient and considerate in seeking equal treatment. He continued:

"I think we can feel very grateful . . . . that some of the minority groups in this country have been as patient as they have and as considerate in their approach to these questions. One would visualize that this country could have had a much rougher time."

Paris Bombshell Wants To Act, Forget Sex Tag

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Fifi D'Orsay, the saucy Parisienne who has never seen Paris, is hoping folks will forget her as the French bombshell.

"I want to act," she says. "I want to do all kinds of roles—big ones, small ones, old girls, not-so-old girls—I'll do anything. But everybody thinks of me as the French bombshell. I've got to get rid of it."

That will be the neatest trick of the year. Fifi in repose is like a ticking bomb; you never know when she is going to explode.

Dramatic acting is the latest turn in Fifi's long career. She can be viewed tonight on NBC's Thriller playing an irritated landlady. Not a spit curl, not even an "ooo-la-la."

Fifi's problem is not only beating the bombshell tag. She also is dealing with a new generation of producers. Incredible as it seems, some have never heard of Fifi D'Orsay.

When she did a Perry Mason TV show, a young production aide asked her to spell her name on the telephone. She did so and added: "If you haven't heard of me, ask your mother. Or better yet, ask your father."

Fifi D'Orsay is one of those enduring names of show business. The endurance is surprising when you consider how little the film public has been exposed to her. Her heyday was 1930-32, when she made a series of movies at Fox.

"I was Will Rogers' discovery," she said. "He happened to remember me from vaudeville. When Fox needed a French girl 'They Had to See Paris,' he told the studio to send for me."

Fifi, who prides herself in always speaking the truth, was instructed by the studio bosses to tell reporters she was from Paris. She was a French-Canadian who never been across the pond. She maintained the masquerade for months until an astute reporter named Hubbard Keavy pinned her down.

Her relations with Fox went downhill. After two years, she asked for a release from her contract. She was earning $400 a week and had offers to play theaters at $4,500.

"They let me go, and it was the biggest mistake of my life," she admitted sadly. "Sure, I got a lot of money playing theaters —up to $5,000 a week, but I spent it faster than I made it."

Fifi was a one-girl entertainment troupe during the war, touring almost constantly with the U.S.O. She retired for three years after her second marriage, went back to entertaining when it blew over.

Now in her fifties and still an attractive woman, Fifi has the same vivacity—"I'm not talented, but I'm contagious"—but she admits a new inner calm.

"All my life, I've wanted to have people around me," she said. "Now I live alone and I like it. I go to church and I feel closer to God than I have ever been. That's a wonderful feeling."

Blockade Of Cuba Urged By Ex-Envoy

WASHINGTON (AP)—A former ambassador says the United States must throw a blockade around Fidel Castro's Cuba.

The ex-envoy, Robert C. Hill, told the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Monday that the United States should ask other hemisphere nations to join the blockade but should do it alone—with military force—if it has to.

Hill, a political appointee who served as ambassador to Costa Rica, El Salvador and Mexico as well as serving a stint as assistant secretary of state for congressional liaison, said Iron Curtain countries are shipping arms into Cuba that "will be used against other Latin-American areas."

Hill contended that State Department policy favored Castro "even after our own government's intelligence reports" showed the Cuban regime was under Communist influence or domination.

"There is no doubt in my mind," said Hill," that individuals in the State Department with the help of the New York Times put Fidel Castro in power."

The Times said there would be no comment on Hill's statement.

TELEVISION NOTES

Critic Returns To Review Trash

By FRED DANZIG
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Senate subcommittee on juvenile delinquency may be down on "Whispering Smith," but the show's rating is up.

So "Whispering Smith" continues to flourish on NBC-TV despite the fact that the subcommittee fingered it as one gamy example of TV trash and some of the men responsible for putting the series on the air admitted that they're still holding their noses.

This isn't contempt of Congress. It's contempt of TV content.

I went back to "Whispering Smith" Monday night to see if it has shown any improvement. It's still a mighty uninspired production. But it's not alone. There are too many expendable filmed series that have nothing to offer.

As for the juvenile delinquency "issue," I'm not really bugged on it because I happen to think we'll have juvenile — and adult—delinquency long after "Whispering Smith" fades from earshot, or pistol shot. I say take the show off, not for what it might do to young minds, but for what it is doing to TV creativity.

The series is said to have been viewed by 2,500,000 youngsters when it had its premiere. Permit me, by means of the following fictional letter, to offer my thoughts on how the recent events may have affected one young mind:

Dear Senator:

My old lady won't let me and my old man watch "Whispering Smith" anymore after all that fuss at the juvenile delinquency hearing. At first, I was plenty sore. So was my old man. Especially at 9 o'clock, when the other channels were showing repeats and we had nothing to do but talk to each other for a half-hour.

My old man put aside the detective magazine, let me take a quick sip from his glass of beer, and started talking about himself. He filled me in on how to cheat on my finals and I learned a lot from him.

Then he told me not to worry about keeping up my school marks next term because he knows somebody in the admission's office of his college. When I asked how much he was fined on that ticket he got the other day, my pop broke up laughing and told me he got it fixed. He said, in fact, that he's still driving the wrong way down that one-way street just to show those cops they can't push him around. What a guy. It was a great talk.

So thanks, senator, for blowing the whistle on "Whispering Smith" and helping to keep me away from evil influences.

Will Pay More Attention To Son

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Sgt. Carl Ennis of the Trenton Police says he'll pay more attention to his son's warnings from now on.

Ennis said the boy, Chris, 6, took a bite of his father's ice cream bar. The sergeant took it back and swallowed a sizable portion although the boy cried, "Wait, daddy."

Asked what was wrong, Chris said, "Never mind now, daddy, you've already swallowed my loose tooth."

Houk Glowing Over Victory That Put Yanks In Second

O'Dell Lifts Giants To NL Triumph

By DICK JOYCE
United Press International

Youth — the asset Ralph Houk had in his favor when he got the job of New York Yankees' manager — is helping Casey Stengel's successor mold a classy pitching staff.

Houk was still glowing today over 22-year-old Bill Stafford's four-hit, 3-1 victory over the Los Angeles Angels Monday night that moved New York into second place in the American League, only one game behind the Cleveland Indians.

For the third straight game the Yankee version of the "Kiddie Corps" has kept the Bronx Bombers in the AL fight when all of their veteran starters, except Whitey Ford, had faltered.

Stafford, who had been counted on as a middle distance relief man early in the season, won his fourth consecutive game and his third route-going performance in a row since being given a regular turn.

BEATS YANKEE NEMESIS

In besting the Angels, Stafford had to outduel Ted Bowsfield, an old Yankee nemesis, who matched zeroes with the young right-hander for the first four innings. Three of the Angels four hits came in the fifth inning, including Ken Hunt's run producing triple after Lee Thomas' single.

The Yankees got all their runs in the sixth on singles by Tony Kubek, Mickey Mantle, Elston Howard, an infield out and Hector Lopez's double. New York has now won five straight and 10 of its last 11 games.

With the rough western road trip starting today, Houk will be relying on Stafford, rookie Roland Sheldon, 24, Ralph Terry, 25, and Jim Coates, 27, to back up Ford, with former aces Bob Turley and Art Ditmar relegated to the bullpen.

A'S BEAT INDIANS

The Indians' lead dwindled to a single game over New York and Detroit when they dropped a 7-5 decision to the Kansas City Athletics. The Tigers were idle but fell into third place, four percentage points behind the Yankees.

Roy Sievers and Al Smith provided the sock for the Chicago White Sox, who defeated the Baltimore Orioles, 9-8, and relief hurler Mike Fornieles quelled a late Minnesota rally to give the Boston Red Sox a 10-8 triumph over the Twins in the only other American League games scheduled.

In the only National League contest, Billy O'Dell struck out 10 Los Angeles Dodgers in a relief role to lift the San Francisco Giants to a 7-4 victory.

Leo Posada's two out, two-run pinch home run off Cleveland's top fireman, Frank Funk, in the 10th inning was the decisive blow for the A's. Jim Archer picked up his fourth victory in five decisions.

SIEVERS BELTS TWO

Sievers connected twice for Chicago for his 13th and 14th homers of the year but it was Smith's eighth inning poke which gave the White Sox their winning margin and Don Larsen his first triumph in a White Sox uniform.

Fornieles put the fire out on a bases-loaded situation in the eighth inning to save the game for Boston. Chuck Shilling's three RBI's and a game-preserving catch sparked the Red Sox. Harmon Killebrew collected five of the 15 Twin safeties.

The Dodgers' loss dropped them to a half game behind idle Cincinnati and put the Giants two games behind the Reds in third place. Roger Craig, failed in his bid to score his ninth straight victory over the Giants and was knocked out in the second inning. The Giants got 12 hits off four Dodger hurlers.

HEAT SEARS SITE OF 61ST OPEN

Oakland Hills, Always Rough, Could Be Worse Thursday

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP)—Oakland Hills, where the 61st National Open golf tournament will be played starting Thursday, is "a monster" under normal conditions.

Seared by the kind of heat that has locked the Detroit area in its grip the last 24 hours, says Bob Rosburg, "It could make it impossible."

Rosburg, as knowledgeable a golfer as you'll find in the list of 149 challengers to defending champion Arnold Palmer, had just trudged in from another practice spin around the 6,907-yard, par 35-35—70 course on a day the thermometer rocketed to 91—highest of the year.

Bob, former PGA champion now registering from Portland, Ore., shot a 2-under-par 68 and, except for the heat and the weatherman's hint of more of it, might have been a good deal more optimistic than he was.

Ben Hogan, who won his third of four Open titles the last time America's golf classic was played here in 1951, is the one who has skinny fairways, fat traps, rolling greens and lush, thick rough—"the monster."

"It's tough enough as it is," said Rosburg. "The greens right now are in pretty lush shape and they're still a real challenge. If this heat should continue, and dry them out some, it's going to be impossible."

Increased speed of the putting surface, according to Rosburg, won't be as significant in a heat wave as would the fact that already-trying iron shots would have even less chance of sticking on the green.

As tailor-made by golf architect Robert Trent Jones, Oakland Hills has bundles of fairway traps spotted just about where most of the top hitters usually drive. To avoid them, the cautious will have to play short—leaving themselves long second shots to most of the par 4 holes. Thanks to Mr. Jones' digging, many of the greens are heavily trapped in front, side and back. The reluctant conclusion is that a golfer has to hit full to the green on his approach to avoid the front sand, yet not too full or he'll wind up in a trap beyond. It goes without saying that a rocketing golf ball stops better on a soft green than one that has been baked dry by a 90-degree sun.

While Rosburg was analyzing, the husky, bronzed Palmer 69—a score matched by former PGA champion Doug Ford, who beat Arnie in the sudden death playoff of the Speedway 500 tournament at Indianapolis two weeks back.

Ruston Legion Defeats Rayville

RUSTON, La. (Special) — Ruston won a tight pitcher's dual over Rayville 4-1 here last night on the two-hit work of Arnold Ramsey and double tallies in the second and third, to climb into a first place Legion tie with Rayville.

Ed Quimby, stellar Rayville High hurler, limited the winners to three hits in going the route.

Andy Clark singled home Jerry Hood, and Ramsey polled one to the left field wall, scoring Ronnie Graham, for the two in the second.

Hood grounded to first to score Alden Reeves and Graham drove home Charles Shuffield for the two in the fourth.

Trade Talks Spring Up In Hockey League

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

MONTREAL (AP)—Trade talks, always the juicy part of any league get-together, sprung up in every nook and cranny in the National Hockey League's annual meeting, threatening to overshadow the drafting of players today from the Western Hockey League and the Eastern Professional League.

The minor league draft was the nominal top choice as the second day of the meetings got underway, but there was more interest in proposed trades and purchases.

With the intra-league draft scheduled for Wednesday, any prospective deals were sure to be clicked off before the day was through.

The Montreal Canadiens, already involved in three deals since the close of the season, were reported ready for further trading, and it was rumored that the Chicago Black Hawks were directly interested.

Muzz Patrick, general manager of the New York Rangers, said he had been trying to make a deal with the Detroit Red Wings, but "was getting nowhere."

Al Leader, president of the Western Hockey League, said that Los Angeles is a sure entrant in the loop for next season and that San Francisco's status may be decided today.

BEATS SUMLIN IN 12 ROUNDS

Ralph Dupas Sheds Caution, Wins Unanimous Decision

By BEN THOMAS

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Dancing Ralph Dupas outran Guy Sumlin for the first 11 rounds and then tossed caution to the winds in a furious final stanza to win a unanimous decision here Monday night.

The 12-round victory kept the mythical Southern welterweight crown in Dupas' possession.

The fourth-ranked Dupas bobbed and weaved in the early rounds and was in trouble only in the eighth. He weighed in at 146½.

Sumlin, 144, was the axis for the circling, speedy Dupas in the early rounds. In the eighth, he pushed Dupas to the ropes with a series of hard left hooks, but the bell saved the New Orleans fighter.

The ninth, 10th and 11th rounds were repeats of the first seven rounds. The crowd of nearly 8,000 began chanting : "Run, Ralph Run."

But in the final round, Dupas opened like a tiger and pressed Sumlin hard throughout. Sumlin, however landed several hard punches, but was groggy at the bell.

Dupas opened a slight cut over Sumlin's right eye in the third. It was opened again in the seventh and Dupas was bleeding from a gash above the right eye in the same round. Sumlin got a gash in his chin in the final round.

There were no knockdowns.

Dupas' victory over the seventh-rated Sumlin puts the dancing New Orleans veteran in good position for a crack at Emile Griffith's welterweight crown.

New York Mets Report Signing Of 12 Players

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Mets today reported the signing of 12 players including Tracey Rivers, a Georgia Southern College pitcher, who reportedly was paid a five-figure bonus.

William Haberman, Fordham University outfielder, and Sandor Taboh, St. John's University third baseman, also received sizable bonus payments.

Rivers, a 21-year-old right-hander who is 6-foot-4 and weighs 210 pounds, has been assigned to the Raleigh N.C. farm club of the Carolina League, Class B, along with Haberman and Taboh.

Others assigned to Raleigh include Bruce Grady, Howard College outfielder; J. E. Rowe, Georgia Southern outfielders and third baseman; Ted Gruber, North Carolina College outfielder; Doug Martin, University of Richmond second baseman; and Gene Hubbard, a 21-year-old semi-pro pitcher.

Four players were assigned to the Lexington, N.C. club of the Class D Western Carolina League. They are outfielder John Bianchi and pitcher Blake Griggs, both from Klamath Falls, Ore.; infielder Boswell Smith from Foley, Ala. and pitcher George Warrford.

MACON TRIMS LITTLE ROCK

Shreveport Blanks Atlanta By 4-O

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

That Tillotson hasn't exactly brought disaster to the stumbling Atlanta Crackers, but the personable young right-hander has certainly induced a strange sort of scoring drought in the ranks of the defending Southern Association champions.

The Crackers went 51 games without drawing the collar this season, but they have been zeroed in three of their last 12 games, and each time the starting pitcher was 20-year-old Tillotson.

Shreveport applied the whitewash 4-0 last night, handing Atlanta its sixth defeat in the last seven games. Tillotson saw his season record adjusted to 5-4 in the process. He was 5-1 only 29 innings ago when the run famine began.

Birmingham shaded Chattanooga 5-4 and cut the Lookouts' league lead to two games, and Macon—still on the rebound under hustling Jerry Snyder — trimmed Little Rock 4-2. Mobile and Nashville were not scheduled.

Buddy Blemker baffled the Crackers with an assortment of slow curves and posted his first victory. He returned to Shreveport only a week or so ago from Hawaii of the Pacific Coast League. Blemker tired in the ninth and was removed after he walked the first Cracker and hit the second. Dave Wickersham got the side out without damage. Alex George, Bill Kern and Frank Cipriani drove in the Shreveport runs.

Chattanooga catcher Dick Teed got his mitt too close to the bat of Birmingham pitcher Johnny Seale in the fifth inning, and the resulting interference call put the winning run on base for the Barons. Purn Goldy drove in Seale with a single and that run gave Birmingham just enough to withstand a three-run rally by Chattanooga in the seventh.

Jim Stump registered his fifth victory in six decisions for Macon. Tony Bartirome led Macon at bat with four straight hits and scored two runs.

Billy Reynolds, out of action for Little Rock since April 28 because of a broken hand, celebrated his return to the lineup with a home run in the second inning.

The victory gave Macon a 10-5 record since infielder Snyder replaced Max Macon as manager of the Peaches May 31. Little Rock has dropped three in a row and eight of its last 10 games.

A FILLY TO BE WATCHED

'Primonetta' Cops Laurels As Monmouth Park Winner

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Primonetta is a gal to be reckoned with. This is a note to Funloving and Bowl of Flowers, who have been dominating the 3-year-old filly ranks.

Brookmeade Stable's Bowl of Flowers, winner of six straight races until Ogden Phipps' Funloving upset her Saturday in the Mother Goose Stakes at Belmont Park, is the 1960 juvenile filly champion.

Primonetta, unbeaten in her fourt starts as a 2-year-old last year and in three races this season, had been out of action since mid-April because of an infection of the right front ankle.

But the chestnut daughter of Swaps came back with a gang Monday at Monmouth Park Primonetta easily won the Monmouth Park feature, stepping 6 furlongs in 1:08 2-5, to equal Decathlon's 1957 track record. That is moving, and jockey Howard Grant said there was no doubt the filly could have broken the mark had she been threatened. She beat older horses of her sex, whipping 5-year-old Shirley Jones by 3½ lengths.

"She's the runningest thing I've ever sat on," Grant remarked after the race.

Bowl of Flowers won the Acorn Stakes in April, and was the odds-on-favorite for the Mother Goose. Funloving, who won the Black-eyed Susan at Pimlico a day earlier than the Acorn, led all the way to capture the Mother Goose.

Primonetta is owned by the Darby Dan Farm of John W. Galbreath, head man of the Pittsburgh Pirates. She won the Marguerite Stakes at Pimlico last November before being put away for the year. She started in an allowance race at Aqueduct April 4, winning easily.

Then Primonetta met nine rivals in the Prioress Stakes April 12 at Aqueduct, and romped home handily.

However, the filly suffered a cut on the inside of the right foreleg, and it became inflamed.

"We don't know how it happened," said Jimmy Conway, Galbreath's 50-year-old trainer. "She lost some of her condition, and couldn't be ready for the Mother Goose."

"The race at Monmouth yesterday wasn't hard on Primonetta," the trainer said. Conway added that the filly couldn't be up to facing Bowl of Flowers and Funloving in the $100,000 Coaching Club American Oaks June 24 at Belmont Park.

"She'll probably go in the Miss Woodford Stakes at Monmouth Park." The Miss Woodford is a 6 furlongs, $20,000 event July 3.

Co-Captains Are Named At Southwestern

LAFAYETTE, La. (Special) — University of Southwestern Louisiana footballers have elected two senior backs to serve as the Bulldog co-captains in the coming 1961 grid season.

Fullback Carlton Falgout, two-year letterman from Raceland, and quarterback J. Y. Mula, Morgan City product who earned his first 'S' award last fall, are the new co-leaders chosen by their fellow teammates.

USL head coach Russell Faulkinberry, in makin the announcement, siad that both seniors should prove to be very capable and inspiring field leaders during Southwestern's ten-game schedule.

The Canines co-captains are among a group of 14 returning lettermen who are expected to form the nucleus of Faulkinberry's first gridiron edition at USL. Both turned in creditable performances in the spring intra-squad game and handled first-string assignments.

Falgout was switched to the fullback post in spring drills after operating at right half the past two years. Faulkinberry seemed highly pleased as the 198-pounder made a quick adjustment. In the intrasquad bout Falgout rushed for 127 yards in 22 carries for a fine 5.8 average.

The former Raceland High student ranked second among USL rushers in 1960, netting 172 paces in 45 trips. He also caught five passes for 61 yards, returned seven punts for 125 yards and five kickoffs for 95, and tallied two touchdowns.

A physical education major, Falgout was a four-sport letterman at Raceland. Coached by Orie Grabert, he won All-State honors as a quarterback. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Allen Falgout, Sr., who reside in Raceland.

Mula joined the Bulldog camp last year after two outstanding seasons spent at Southwest (Miss.) Junior College, where he lettered in football, baseball and track.

The 165-pound field general last season was a valuable understudy for senior Danny Bridges, finishing third behind Bridges and All-GSC halfback Vernon Lott in total offense yardage. Mula was credited with 193 yards, and all but nine of this distance was made in the air route.

EVENING GOWN FROM ISRAEL — Making a bid for American fashion acceptance, Israeli designers feature unusual prints like this white cotton shantung with big golden brown circles. Dress has fitted bodice, full skirt, unexpected straight back panel dropping from shouldder.

Israel Becoming New Source Of Fashions

By FLORENCE DE SANTIS

Another nation is making a strong bid for fashion recognition. Israel, already well known for knits and sportswear, is showing a variety of new fashions these days, ranging from bathing costumes to suits and evening gowns.

Israel designers take their cue from Paris, and like heavier fabrics with body and cutting qualities. Their cottons feature vivid florals, stripes and plaids combined with floral panels. Styling ranges from square-necked sun dresses with pleated skirts to a vivid white cotton printed with huge golden brown circles, with fitted bodice and full skirt, a straight back panel attached at the shoulders.

Their bathing suits are news because they are now often done as part of beach costumes. Suits are Helanca stretch as here, but they come in such versions as black with gold bullion Lurex embroidery, and a black jacket with rows of the gold embroidery and white silk fringe.

Big soft dahlias in grey and pink, with vivid green leaves on a Helanca draped sheath suit are repeated on a huge butterfly cape to go over it. A two-piece white cotton bikini is embroidered in pink, has a three-tiered matching skirt with scalloped pink edges, and a brief jacket.

Prints of deep green, blue, black and white, of wide ombred green stripes on white, of paintbrush stripes set closely on white, and of vivid stripes in orange, blue and purple set on the bias are just a few of the effects liked for beach costumes.

Coat and dress ensembles are handsome with the dress fabric lining the coat, as in a green and blue brushstroke print fluid sheath under a white coat lined with the print.

The knits can't be overlooked in any Israeli fashion show, and some handsome suits and three-piece ensembles appear. A lacy pink knit was used for a long torso overblouse, skirt and straight coat cut mandarin style, with pink satin bindings and side slits.

Evening dresses are novel for their use of mid-Eastern themes such as Yemenite embroidery used in a one-shoulder effect on a white sheath of rough linen. The embroidery was repeated at one side of the front hemline. A high-front, low-back short eyelet embroidered gown had a sheer nylon coat in orchid floating over it.

News in the rainwear is waterproofed skirts to go with the coats. Tailored in beige poplin, with brown collar and pipings, one such outfit could walk any campus in the country.

DEAR ABBY

You Don't Need Excuse— You Have Good Reasons

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: About a year ago my husband started bringing a woman here from his office to do extra work. Then he asked me to make the den into a bedroom for her as he thought it was dangerous for her to drive home alone at night. I did this, thinking it would last only a little while. Now the woman is making her home with us. She bosses the children around, and has practically taken over my house. My husband said she is smart and I should listen to her ideas. Last night when he suggested I take the children and spend the summer with my parents (600 miles away), I realized I had been a big fool. Abby, I want that woman out of my house. I love my husband and don't want to lose him. What excuse can I use? —TOO TRUSTING

DEAR TRUSTING: You don't need an "excuse"—you have good reasons. Without pointing an accusing finger, tell your husband you want that woman "out" of your home immediately. Don't threaten him, and don't make a scene. Explain that it is your love for him and your family that makes it impossible to tolerate a "live-in" guest at your home.

DEAR ABBY: Won't you please say something about people who buy birds as pets and mistreat them? I have actually had people say to me, "Our canary fell in the dishwater and was drowned." Or, "Our parakeet flew into the open fireplace and got burned up." Or, "The cat got it." Or, "The dog got it."

I once knew a man who used to give his parakeet vodka just to see how it would act. This same man is big and strong and, just because the bird pecked him on the ear, he knocked the bird down and broke its wing. Can you tell me why birds are the most abused of all pets? — BIRD LOVER

DEAR LOVER: Not all pet birds are abused—only those who are unfortunate enough to belong to people who belong in cages.

DEAR ABBY: I hope this settles your argument about the Southerners who say "you all." They never use it to address "one" person. For example: In Act Two of Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar," Anthony said, "Friends, I am with you all and love you all." Also in his famous funeral speech, Anthony said over Caesar's body, "You all did love him."

And in the Holy Bible, Paul, writing to the Philippians, said. "I thank my God upon every remembrance of you all . . . always in every prayer of mine for you all."

Crystal clear, isn't it? Now, if anyone from Brooklyn, who thinks it is proper to say "youse guys" will write to me, I will straighten him out. —SOUTH CAROLINA

TEEN-AGE MAIL

His Negative Attitude A Handicap To Success

By DOROTY RICKER

Dear Mrs. Ricker:

I met a very nice girl a few months ago. When I told her where I went to school (it's a very exclusive boy's school) she asked me if I knew any kids at her school. Well, I mentioned some very popular kids, but actually I have only admired them from afar.

After we had dated a couple of times she got the impression that I am a big wheel at school but, Mrs. Ricker, I'm not. The fact is, I'm a creep. On our third date I found out she is an extremely popular girl who has lots of dates and friends. She belongs to several school clubs and is always going out somewhere with her group. They are all nice kids and are sort of a social clique.

I'm afraid she will find out about the "real" me. I don't think she knows yet and I would sure hate to lose her friendship. Perhaps you will say that she wouldn't go out with me if she didn't like me, but I think she would. She mentions other boys sometimes, but always says they are just friends and that she isn't going to get serious about anyone. Why does she date me? Is she making a fool of me? What do you think? —Mat

Dear Mat:

Read your own letter over very carefully. Doesn't it strike you that a very negative attitude is expressed all the way through it? A certain amount of self-criticism and self-evaluation is good for us at times, but it can be overdone. Why should you consider yourself a "creep"? Apparently you attend a very fine private school which leads me to believe you do not come from a substandard or under - privileged home. So, if your reputation is all right, I presume you are socially acceptable. Assuming that is correct, let's go on from there.

I cannot think of any logical reason why a very popular girl would waste her time dating a so-called "creep". It might happen once but not several times. So, I feel sure you are wrong in thinking the girl would continue dating you if she shared your opinion of yourself. She has told you farnkly she is not serious about any boy so you cannot accuse her of making a fool of you.

I suspect your "real" reason for saying you are a "creep" is that you gave the girl a false impression that you are a big wheel at your school and you wish you hadn't. If that is the case, I suggest you simply stop 'stretching the truth' about yourself. A boy doesn't have to be a big wheel to impress a girl or hold her interest. All that most girls expect of a date is for him to be clean, pleasant, mannerly, considerate, attentive and "truthful".

Dear Mrs. Ricker:

We are a group of boys, our ages are from 15 to 17. We all read your column and enjoy it. Our problem is about a boy we hang around with. He is 16. We are not allowed to smoke in school but he chews tobacco, during study hall and between classes. He is always hunting a place to spit and it is disgusting. Please give us some advice on how we can get him to give up this bad habit. —The Boys

Dear Boys:

This is the first time I have had a letter about a tobacco-chewing teen-ager. Perhaps it is just a gag, but since we discuss almost everything else in this column, why not this, too?

In my opinin, it is a filthy, disgusting habit and I cannot find any logical reason for anyone doing it. If your letter is about a real situatin, I suggest several of the boys in your group talk to the boy and point out that he is automatically cutting himself off from nice people. Most boys and girls will avoid him like a skunk at a lawn party if he continues this very unpleasant habit.

Dorothy Ricker's newest leaflet is packed with do-it-yourself ideas for boys and girls who want to improve their appearance Write for your "free" copy of "How to Look Your Best." Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request and mail to Dorothy Ricker in care of this newspaper.

Intemperate Speech Use Is Criticized

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The Mississippi Supreme Court upheld Monday Negro leader Medgar Evers' right to criticize a court action, but it labeled his statement intemperate, unwarranted and false in several respects.

In a unanimous decision written by Justice W. N. Ethridge, the court overruled Circuit Judge Stanton Hall of Hattiesburg and set aside the $100 fine and 30-day jail sentence given Evers for contempt of court last December.

Evers, Mississippi field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, was cited for contempt for saying Hall's court committed a "mockery to judicial justice" when it convicted a Negro for theft against what he called the overwhelming weight of the evidence.

Evers accused the court of trying to put Negro chicken farmer Clyde Kennard away legally as reprisal for his ill-fated attempt to desegregate Mississippi Southern College in 1959.

He was convicted of taking five sacks of chicken feed from a Hattiesburg cooperative store.

The Supreme Court said Evers' statement was inaccurate because the Supreme Coure reviewed the theft conviction and found it was not contrary to the evidence.

After the Supreme Court decision, Evers issued a statement saying:

"It is encouraging that there is a court of law in our state that regards freedom of speech as a cornerstone of our American heritage, whether that speech is uttered by an official of the NAACP, the mayor of one of our major cities, or a United States senator."

Although the Supreme Court decision was unanimous, Chief Justice Harvey McGehe scorched Evers, saying he disagreed with the wisdom of the court in quoting some legal principles and making the observation it did in the opinion because they would "have a tendency to encourage such agitators as Medgar Evers to unjustly criticize our courts. . .upon the theory that he has a license from this court to do so."

McGehe said he believed Evers intended to show contempt for the court with his statement.

The unanimous opinion said the state did not prove Evers' statement was contemptuous, and added:

"We cannot see how this one-sided, inaccurate and prejudiced comment on a case could present, in any realistic sense, a serious, real or substantial tendency to impede or corrupt the judge or jury."

The court also said the constitutional guarantees of freedom of speech and of the press "are not idle and meaningless terms, but slightly philosophical concepts of a constitutional republic and of the intellectual independence of every citizen."

Arrested Solon Convinced South Wants Integration

NEW YORK (AP)—A New York state legislator who was arrested during a "Freedom Ride" in Jackson, Miss., said Monday night his Southern trip convinced him most white Southerners want the federal government to enforce integration laws.

Mark Lane, a Manhattan Democrat and member of the State Assembly, urged public pressure on the Kennedy administration for stronger federal policy on desegregation.

A campaigner for Kennedy last fall, Lane said he was "deeply disappointed by the inaction of the President and the call for a cooling-off period by the attorney general" following violence stemming from the Freedom bus rides.

Lane said he believes that the majority of whites in the South are "just looking for the United States government to take the initiative, declare what the law is going to be, and be consistent about enforcing it."

He said he based his belief on talks with Southern newspaper reporters.

Lane said he would go to the U.S. Supreme Court if necessary to fight his conviction on a charge of breaching the peace in Jackson.

Negro Ready To Enter Georgia Graduate School

ATHENS, Ga. (AP)—The first Negro ever to enter the graduate school at the University of Georgia was ready to begin classes today.

Mary Frances Early, an Atlanta music teacher, registered without disturbance and virtually without notice Monday in marked contrast to the fanfare and temporary disorder which attended enrollment of the first two Negro undergraduates in January.

"It was just another registation day as far as we were concerned," said Joe Williams, dean of students.

Miss Early was among about 4,000 students who signed up for the summer session. Students on the campus reported that many of those registering did not even realize she was in the group.

Rioting broke out after Charlayne A. Hunter and Hamilton E. Holmes, also of Atlanta, entered the university early in the year under U.S. court orders. The two were sent home but soon were readmitted and went through the winter and spring quarters without further disorder.

They are not attending summer school.

Barham Says May Be Candidate For 1964 Governor

RUSTON (Special) — C. E. Barham, Ruston attorney and former lieutenant governor, said here Monday he is "definitely considering" running for governor in 1963.

He was mentioned in rumors during the recently completed fiscal legislative session.

"Friends from several parts of the state have asked me to run," Barham said. "Naturally I have it under consideration but have not reached any conclusion."

He indicated it is too early for him "to make a decision."

APPEALS FOR AID

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — Iranian Premier Ali Amini appealed to the nation Monday to aid the victims of earthquakes which killed at least 50 persons in a mud-hut village in southern Iran Sunday.

Lou Brown Held By Police In Scandal Probe

RALEIGH, N.C. (UPI)—Former North Carolina basketball player Lou Brown of Jersey City, N.J., described as "most uncooperative" in the investigation of college game-fixing scandals, today was being held by police authorities.

Brown and Jerry Vogel, 24-year-old former University of Alabama player from New York, reportedly turned themselves over to local authorities Monday to face charges of attempting to bribe players.

District solicitor Lester V. Chalmers, who spearheaded the investigation of the bribery activity in the state, said Monday night Brown was being held "in custody. . .that's all I can say about it."

However, he did say the former Tar Heel player waived preliminary hearing and bond probably would be set today.

Vogel waived preliminary hearing and was placed in jail for several hours in lieu of $3,000 bond. But a local bondsman apparently posted the money and Vogel was released.

The announcement of their arrests marked another step in the bribery scandal, credited with wrecking basketball at the University of North Carolina and N.C. State College.

"Brown is not being very cooperative," Chalmers said. "In fact, he has been most uncooperative. He hasn't divulged anything at all."

The district solicitor added, "I don't know what we will do with him." And he said Brown was denying any knowledge whatsoever about basketball fixing in North Carolina.

Appointment Of Area Man Is Opposed

By EZRA ADAMS
State Editor

LAKE PROVIDENCE (Special) — W. Barry Mitchell, local insurance broker, is the center of a controversy radiating to Washington, D. C., after his recent President appointment to the five-member Louisiana Agricultural Stabilization Committee.

His appointment is being challenged by the Farm Bureau here, which has adopted a resolution declaring Mitchell is not qualified as a farmer according to the Department of Agriculture's listed qualifications for a state ASC

Mitchell Monday refuted this, saying he, with his mother, is owner and operator of an 82 - acre cotton and soybean farm near Transylvania.

"They sent a man from Washington down here to check me out. I was approved and recommended by the Department (of Agriculture) for the appointment, which I received on May 9," Mitchell said Monday.

On May 12, in a special meeting, the East Carroll Farm Bureau passed a strongly - worded resolution protesting Mitchell's appointment.

The former three - member state committee was increased by the Kennedy administration to five members, with Mitchell one of the two new members appointed. The other new member is C. J. Grayson of Fort Necessity, in Franklin Parish.

Other members of the state committee are Horace Arceneau, Lake Arthur, chairman, Cliff LeBlanc, White Castle, and Gordon Randolph, Colfax.

Following the May 12 Bureau resolution, a group of the members visited Mitchell and showed him a copy of it.

Copies of the resolution were sent to the Louisiana Farm Bureua Federation which in turn sent it to the national organization and it was used in arguments before Sen. Allen J. Ellender's Agriculture Committee in a presentation opposing the administration's proposed Omnibus Farm Bill.

On May 16, Mitchell issued a statement declaring his ownership and operation of the 82-acre farm, having bought out other heirs to the property.

On May 22, Secretary of Agriculture Orville E. Freeman wrote a letter to Sen. Ellender apprising him of Mitchell's qualifications and containing the appointee's statement in full.

On June 1, Sen. Ellender wrote L. L. Lovell, of Cheneyville, president of the Louisiana Farm Bureau Federation, saying he had submitted "names of all those who had indicated an interst in" the ASC appointment, including Mitchell's.

Last night, the East Carroll Farm Bureau held a special meeting to explain the group's opposition to the administration's proposed farm bill.

Next Wednesday, Mitchell said, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, Dr. James Ralph, will be principal speaker at a Rotary-sponsored luncheon meeting in the Legion Home here.

DISCUSS BILL

Presumably, Mitchell added, Dr. Ralph will discuss the proposed legislation with about 200 persons from four parishes, including East Carroll, Madison, Tensas and Concordia.

M. R. (Buddy) Ragland, farmer of Lake Providence, member of the state Farm Bureau Federation's board of directors and past president of the East Carroll Farm Bureau, said Monday the local group does not feel that Mitchell is qualified according to the Department's own rules, which reuire, among other things, that an appointee to a state ASC committee must:

1. Have a substantial interest in an active farming enterprise;

2. Be actively engaged in farming and be regarded as a public spirited and progressive farmer.

The parish Bureau's resolution begins, "Whereas, President Kennedy is insistent that the Omnibus Farm Bill should be a cure for the ailments of American agriculture, Secretary Freeman, preparatory to implementing this Bill, has gone about the business of packing the Louisiana State A.S.C. Committee, increasing it from three to five members. The fifth position, being the last and most recent appointment to the Louisiana A.S.C. Committee, has fallen to W. Barry Mitchell, Insurance and Investment Broker, Lake Providence, East Carroll Parish, Louisiana. Also, it is evident by study of the aforesaid Bill that the powers and pay of these Committeemen will be increased substantially over that of the recent past."

At the special meeting called May 12, the Bureau's "agenda was set solely and only for the discussion and action upon and concerning the appointment of W. Barry Mitchell as Louisiana State A.S.C. Committeeman."

The resolution that resulted made formal protest to Mitchell's appointment, asking his removal "in favor of a qualified farmer."

The parish group's resolution, over two pages in length, concluded, "The Board of Directors of the East Carroll Farm Bureau further goes on record to state that the foregoing resolution is a protest to the apparent violation of a basic principle founded and followed, for the most part, throughout our government, namely qualified representation. We therefore protest this appointment solely on lack of proper qualifications in the field of agriculture."

Ragland, who said he farms about 1,000 acres, said, "There is nothing personal about this protest. Mr. Mitchell is my friend. I have just today discussed with him a plan of insurance."

Fred Phillips, Lake Providence farmer and current president of the parish Farm Bureau, was in agreement with Ragland, pointing out that iMtchell attended a meeting in Florida to be "oriented" to his new duties.

Mitchell said, in an interview, that he did attend a three-day regional meeting of ASC members in Daytona Beach, Fla., on or about May 23 for the purpose of orientation.

"This was new to me. I had heard only one side of the Farm Bill arguments and wanted to know something of the other side," Mitchell said.

He added, "Those men (in the Agriculture Department) are career men on civil service. And their views toward this legislation are wholly different to those views of the Farm Bureau."

Grayson, contacted by telephone Monday night, said he did not attend the Florida meeting. He added that ASC members meet two times monthly in the committee's Alexandria offices and are paid a per diem, no salary.

Grayson said he received his appointment the same day as Mitchell received his.

Arceneau and LeBlanc also attended the Florida meeting, Mitchell said, and added that Randolph did not.

Grayson, a Franklin Parish farmer, explained that duties of the ASC committee include "seeing that Federal agriculture programs are carried out in the state, as it applies to the various crops grown here."

Other officers of the protesting East Carroll Farm Bureau include John Howard, vice president, J. C. Butler, secretary - treasurer, and Fred H. Schneider, publicity chairman.

Lovell could not be reached for comment Monday night.

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

Voice Of Broadway

By Dorothy Killgallen

Bandleader Pupi Campo's $300,000 slander suit against Jack Paar is scheduled to come up in Supreme Court within the forthnight, but experts along TV Alley are betting it won't get to the witness stand stage. They predict an out-of-court settlement. Maestro Campo, currently playing at the Chateau Madrid, alleges he suffered damages when Paar gave out an interview saying "Campo has no talent" (although he'd been prominently featured on the Paar show for two years). Pupi is married to Rosemay Clooney's sister Betty, also a member of the Paar stable in happier days.

Ray Charles, the singer, vows he'll do no more open-air concerts. He turned down $7,500 for a one-nighter at Lewisohn Stadium . . . Silent screen star Dolores Del Rio, ailing, has been warned by her doctors to take it easy. (And she's the beauty who was rumored to sleep 16 hours out of the 24!)

Dino Di Laurentis, the top ranking Italian film producer, changed his mind about Danish beauty Annette Stroyberg. He was all set to make her a big international star, but in a rather short time decided their professional relationship was a mistake, and paid her an impressive sum to end their long - term contract. Annette is happy, anyway — she's in love with that well - known lady-killer, Vittorio Gassman and he returns her affections.

Peggy King is bedded in Manhattan with a serious case of 'flu — serious enough for her mother to fly in from California to help take care of her . . . The Russians hope to have a woman in space within the next 30 days.

Jo Morrow, who was bounced from Columbia Pictures because she'd put on too much weight, is consoling herself by bouncing around with Jackie Barnett, the comedy writer.

Francoise Sagan's friends are taking the tack that she went into seclusion at a rest home to avoid the Cannes Film Festival because she considered "Goodbye Again" (the movie version of her novel "Aimez Vous Brahms?") "commercial" but not avant-garde enough for her intellectual chums. At any rate, she's left Paris with her best girl pal, Paola St. Juste, for a vacation in Capri.

This might be the germ of a page one story: Anouchka von Meks, a great favorite with the young Aga Khan, has been quietly investigating the preliminaries to conversion to the Moslem faith . . . Dave Dushoff of the mammoth Latin Casino in Merchantville, N.J., has scooped the other cafe owners East of the Mississippi. He's signed Jerry Lewis and Harry Belafonte for their only East Coast night club appearances of the year.

Singer Janice Harper just became Mrs. Cecil Kitchens . . . Mark Robson, producer of "The Inspector," sounds bitter about movie stars. He says: "We can't wait any longer until an actor is through hunting in Nairobi before he'll consent to accept a million dollars for a film. The movie industry has become a battle between the whims of an actor and the will of a producer." . . . Mervyn LeRoy is said to want Jane Fonda for "Gypsy."

Walter Troutman's courtship of starlet Claire Kelly, George DeWitt's ex-wife, came to a sudden end when he got the message from her Chicago beau, who sounded rather tough about the whole thing.

Peter Ustinov, who shaved his beard after six years behind the shrubbery, is enjoying his new anonymity. Now he can take walks without being bothered by autograph hunters . . . Maria Vincent, making her debut at the Ritz Carlton in Montreal, created plenty of excitement. She's sexy, sings, and sports the most controversial hair-do seen in that city since Jackie Kennedy visited there . . . A chum who claims to know how Marlene Dietrich keeps that remarkable figure reports that her current diet consists of six poached eggs and one tartar steak each day.

Jazz star Dave Brubeck wants to skip personal appearances for a long, long, time. He has plenty of money, and yearns to spend his days composing and relaxing with his wife and six children . . . Edith Piaf's recovery — after her operation at the American Hospital in Paris — has been so rapid that she expects to be singing again in two weeks.

Peggy Cass' footage has been cut out of the Jerry Lewis picture, "Ladies' Man," but she isn't complaining. Her quote: "I spent most of the time being smothered in Helen Traubel's bosom." However, the cut is said to have involved $100,000 worth of celluloid.

It looks like a big season in the child custody and support courts. Cameron Mitchell and his former wife will battle over the custody of their child; Pete Candoli, Betty Hutton's husband, will confront his ex for the same reason; Linda Christian plans to sue over the money she claims is due her children from the late Tyrone Power's estate, and Buddy Bregman's ex-wife is ready to hale him before a judge for alleged failure to provide support for their offspring.

AFTER ANGRY OUTBURST

Woman Barred From Nazi Trial

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) —A little old woman from France, who hates militarists and war, was forbidden to return today to the trial of American Nazi Party leader George Lincoln Rockwell and his nine men.

But she might risk a contempt citation to go back and curse "les Nazi" again, particularly Rockwell, their self-proclaimed "fuehrer."

Paris-born Mrs. Alice Blanchard, 64, doesn't speak English too well for 41 years as a United States citizen. She refers to New Orleans as "Nouveau Orleeahn" and intersperses her English sentences with French words.

But she made her bitterness eloquent before bailiffs evicted her from the Nazi trial courtroom Monday night.

Dist. Judge Edward A. Haggerty had just enough time to declare his court recessed when Mrs. Blanchard shouted "Heil Hitler, Heil Hitler, Heil Hitler" in her very heavy French accent.

"Tell that woman to be quiet or I'll hold her in contempt," Haggerty interrupted, standing behind the bar.

"I cannot 'elp myself," Mrs. Blanchard declared as bailiff's converged on her. "I 'ave lose two 'usband in war. Now we 'ave les Nazi 'ere in America."

"Get that woman out of here," Haggerty bellowed, "and don't let her come back tomorrow. But before she was out of the door, Mrs. Blanchard added:

"I die before I live under anozher 'itlair." She cursed Rockwell, but in a voice few could hear.

Outside the courtroom Mrs. Blanchard told United Press International she did not care what the judge said. "I don't mind to die for what I believe."

She said her first husband was killed during World War I at Chateau Thierry in 1914. She said her second husband, American Red Cross Capt. Herman Blanchard of New Orleans, brought her to this country.

They met while both were working for the Red Cross in the first World War after her first husband was killed. She said Capt. Blanchard was ill 14 years with injuries suffered during the war and died as a result in a Marine hospital.

Mrs. Blanchard said she had a statute of Joan of Arc in her yard until about a year ago. She claimed American Nazis destroyed it when she was away from home.

An intense patriot, Mrs. Blanchard belongs to the American Legion Auxiliary and has given her time freely to volunteer American war efforts during World War II.

Another woman spectator at the trial got into an argument with Mrs. Blanchard outside the courtroom over her sentiments against Rockwell.

"He aint a real Nazi," the unidentified woman told her. "He's just usin' that for a symbol. The real threat to this country is the Communists. He's against Communists."

"Zey all the same, all bad," Mrs. Blanchard replied. "He say he is le 'Fuehrer,' so I tell him 'ile 'itlhair.' "

"That's the trouble with you refugees," the other woman said. "You come over here and want to run things. I'm an American. My parents helped to found this country."

Undaunted, the greying Mrs. Blanchard touched her chest and declared, "Amhericaa eez my country just the same. I am a good Amhericaan. I am a citroyen (citizen) and I fight for my country."

Most Diseases Psychological Doctor Claims

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Fears, threats and tensions can lead to diseases of all kinds, says the president of the American Neurological Association.

Dr. Harold G. Wolff, who is also a professor of neurology at the Cornell University Medical College, said Monday overwhelming evidence has been gathered during 30 years of studies to show that nearly all disease involves the nervous system.

He told the annual meeting of the neurological association that researchers believe even such diseases as measles, whooping cough and colds have a psychosomatic basis.

Wolff said research indicates that hypochondriacs, persons with morbid anxieties about their health, actually seem more prone to disease than those with less anxiety about their health.

Jackie Dances Till Late In Athens

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Jacqueline Kennedy danced until 1 a.m. today at a seafront night club looking out over beautiful Saronic Gulf off Athens.

America's First Lady was the guest of Mrs. Constantine Caramanlis, wife of Greece's prime minister, for dinner and the evening of dancing.

Mrs. Caramanlis' other guests were Prince and Princess Stanislas Radziwill, Mrs. Kennedy's brother-in-law and sister; Mr. and Mrs. John Mowinckel of the U.S. Embassy in Paris; Arkady Gerney, a New York steelman and longtime friend of Mrs. Kennedy and her sister; and Dimitros Helmis, governor of the National Bank of Greece.

3 Youngsters Plunge Over 100-Ft. Cliff

FORT LEE, N.J. (AP)—Three adventurous boys wandered away from their fifth-grade school picnic Monday to explore the Palisades, a rocky cliff that faces the Hudson River.

Applying a little imagination, they agreed they saw the ruins of a stone fort below them. One by one they started to climb down the sheer rock face—and one by one they fell more than 100 feet to loose shale below.

They all escaped with their lives, but Thomas Nappo, 11, suffered severe head injuries and facial cuts. He was in critical condition at Englewood Hospital.

Charles W. Lapp Jr., 10, broke his nose in the fall while Dennis Patey who celebrated his 11th birthday Monday, received only scratches. They are students at Robert Waters Elementary School in Union City.

The boys fell to the shale base and then tumbled and rolled more than 100 feet down the slope and onto Henry Hudson Highway No. 2.

Dennis waved down a passing motorist who notified police to summon an ambulance.

The fort the youngsters thought they saw was the weathered foundations of an old night club.

City Firemen Won't Receive Additional Pay

BATON ROUGE (AP) — City firemen will not receive supplemental pay from the state.

Gov. Jimmie H. Davis vetoed a bill to that effect Monday with the explanation that no funds were available for that purpose.

The measure, which would have given firmen up to $50 a month for emergency services performed outside of city limits, was similar to one approved last year for city police.

Davis explained that the recent fiscal session of the legislature was limited to allocation of available funds to maintain existing programs and activities.

Also vetoed was a $200,000 appropriation for expanding services for the mentally retarded. Davis noted $300,000 was provided in the general appropriation bill.

Davis also vetoed a bounty on nutria.

Approved were bills to allow legislators to serve on administrative boards and agencies without pay.

Reporter Gets News First-Hand

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—A Mexican-born reporter for the Fort Lauderdale News wanted to know how easy it would be for a Fidel Castro agent to land on the south Florida shore.

Wearing Cuban-type army fatigues and a two-day beard, Hector Morales went out in a rented boat, then swam ashore.

Two Fort Lauderdale policemen pounced on Morales as he hit the beach. He was released when his identity was established.

Retirement Plans

LAKE WALES, Fla. (AP)—The National Letter Carriers Association has announced plans for a $4.5-million 500-apartment retirement village.

The village is to be located on 300 acres of land bordering a lake eight miles east of Lake Wales. Apartments will be rented only to retired letter carriers.

By United Press International

NEW ORLEANS — Mrs. Alice Blanchard, a French refugee who screamed taunts at U.S. Nazi leader George Lincoln Rockwell at his trial:

"I cannot help myself. I have lose (sic) two husbands in the war. Now we have the Nazi here in America. I die before I live under another Hitler."

HOLLYWOOD — Sir Cedric Hardwicke, deploring the demise of conversation which he blamed on TV, movies and other modern activities:

"Today there is too much competition for the spoken word. We are a world of tongue-tied idiots."

LONDON — Leslie Botibol, general manager of Churchill's Night Club, reporting an increasing response from men to his plea for dancing partners for single U.S. women tourists:

"Most of them say they would like to be 'social guides' or 'escorts' but the label doesn't matter. I've been around a long time and I recognize the trend: The gigolo is back."

Board Rules Bail Mandatory For Marcello

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Board of Immigration Appeals has ruled that Carlos Marcello, one-time New Orleans rackets king, must be freed on bail until new deportation proceedings are concluded.

Marcello, deported to Guatemala in April, is back on the country illegally.

The district immigration director at New Orleans had ruled that Marcello must remain in custody at the Immigration Service Detention Center at McAllen, Tex.

The board fixed bond at $10,000 Monday but stayed the order for release until late today when government attorneys said they would request a rehearing on the question of bail.

Marcello has been fighting deportation for a decade. The battle twice went to the Supreme Court.

He came to this country as an infant, but never was naturalized. He has been described as a native of Tunis but his parents were Italian.

END OF FILM MISSING

Private Showing Full Of Suspense

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Was Gary Cooper the murderer in his final movie—or wasn't he?

About 30 people Monday night saw "The Naked Edge," at its first screening. Actress Hermione Gingold, who has a top role in the movie, hosted a private screening at the Music Corp, of America's tiny projection room.

Today, all 30—plus the English comedienne—are biting their nails with suspense. Did he or didn't he?

Miss Gingold told her guests before the screening:

"The producers haven't shown this film to anyone—not even the press. They loaned me a print since I haven't seen it and am leaving tomorrow for New York. They made me promise that none of you will reveal the ending."

It was an easy promise to keep. Because no one saw the ending.

The show ended abruptly, in the middle of a scene—right when everybody was on the edge of their overstuffed chairs.

Miss Gingold, obviously embarrassed, returned from the projection booth and said:

"The projectionist informs me it's a six-reel film and there are only five reels in the can. I apologize. I can't imagine what happened."

Neither could she verbally supply the ending.

"I wasn't in the ending," she said. "And I was only given my own pages of dialogue. I did them and left."

Throughout the movie, Cooper is suspected as the evildoer—even by his wife, played by Deborah Kerr.

It was an unusual role for Cooper, who was ill of cancer during production. The movie was finished in London just before last Christmas. Cooper died a month ago today.

Ironically, he looked healthier and heavier in the movie than he had in 10 years.

Cooper's performance, one of his best, turns the film into one of the year's better whodunits.

Birch Story Withdrawn From Library

WASHINGTON (AP) — "The Life of John Birch" has been withdrawn from the troop information program of the 24th Infantry Division in Germany, Army spokesmen said today.

Also, the militantly conservative Birch Society's publication "American Opinion" is no longer on division newsstands, said the spokesmen. They added this was not considered a ban but rather the exercising of discretion as part of the command function.

Otherwise, officials said, there has been no major change in the "pro-blue" troop indoctrination program which Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker introduced while in command of the 24th.

Walker, relieved of his division command, was rebuked Monday by the Army after an investigation of charges that he labeled as pinks or communists former President Harry S. Truman, other leading Democrats and various elements of the U.S. press, TV and radio.

However, the army found that the troop information program instituted by Walker last October was "not attributable to any program of the John Birch Society."

Overseas Weekly, a privately tabloid whose published charges triggered the investigation, said "The Life of John Birch," written by society founder Robert Welch, had been distributed to all dayrooms in the division and was on a recommended reading list put out for troops.

Birch was a U.S. intelligence officer killed in China by Communist Chinese troops immediately after World War II. The Birch Society counts him as the first American killed in World War III.

The paper also said copies of "American Opinion" were placed on news stands patronized by the 24th Division troops.

The Army said the two-star general will stay in his present staff job at U.S. Army European headquarters "pending eventual reassignment within the United States."

It appeared unlikely he would draw any major command and there was speculation he would retire despite his statement in Heidelberg that "my services will continue in the best interests of America and the fight for freedom, duty, honor and country."

WINNFIELD (Special) — The new, young officers of the Winn Parish Junior Chamber of Commerce include:

John Holt, president: Donnie Hall, internal vice president, Robert Addington, secretary-treasurer, Gus Newton, state director.

Dr. Jerry Williams was president during the past year.

The new president, Holt, is 24 years old and has less than one year Jaycee membership.

Negro Airs University Entrance Try

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — James H. Meredith, a Negro veteran of the Air Force Monday told federal court that the University of Mississippi wouldn't let him enter school for two reasons:

First, Meredith, 28, of Kosciusko, had been attending Jackson (Miss.) State College for Negroes, which is not accredited.

Second, Meredith could not produce recommendations from five alumni of Ole Miss.

Meredith asked U. S. District Judge Sidney I. Mize to force the segregated, 112-year-old University to admit him. His suit is backed by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Meredith filed a double-barreled suit. He sought a temporary restraining order banning Ole Miss officials from refusing to admit him. He also asked for an injunction ordering the university to permit him to enroll.

Judge Mize said he would recess the hearing after Monday's proceedings until July 10.

Constance Baker Motley, of New York, the NAACP attorney, questioned Ole Miss Registrar R. B. Ellis briefly in the morning session.

She clashed with Asst. State Atty. Gen. Dugas Shands when she sought to have documents brought by Ellis aired in court.

Shands contended that the documents should be introduced later.

Meredith was questioned concerning his efforts to enroll at Ole Miss.

He told the court he had attended the University of Kansas, Washburn University at Topeka, Kan., and the Far Eastern Division of the University of Maryland in Japan while in service.

He is currently enrolled at Jackson State.

Speaking almost inaudibly at times, Meredith read a letter from Ellis dated May 25 which rejected his application.

"The university cannot recognize the transfer of credits from the institution you are not attending," the letter said, "since it is not a member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools."

Meredith said he was unable to satisfy the requirement for recommendations by five alumni since all Ole Miss graduates are white.

He said he first applied for the winter session and later sought admission to the summer term which began June 8.

Meredith, who is married, testified he also applied for either a room in the men's dormitory or a married student's apartment.

The suit is the first legal attempt to integrate schools in Mississippi. Previously two Negroes attempted unsuccessfully to enroll at state colleges.

Red China Joins Soviet On Dutch New Guinea Stand

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China today joined the Soviet Union in supporting Indonesia's claim to Dutch New Guinea.

The announcements of support in the government-controlled Chinese press were timed for the arrival of Indonesian President Sukarno in Peiping, on his way home from another world tour.

Soviet backing was announced in a communique issued Monday night just after Sukarno ended his visit to the Soviet Union.

Indonesia contends that West New Guinea, which it calls West Irian, should have been included when the Dutch granted Indonesia independence in 1949.

The Netherlands insists that the island's primitive people are an ethnic group separate from the Indonesians and should be allowed to decide their own future.

Fighting Church Closed In Florida

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) —Authorities ordered a Negro church padlocked indefinitely after a fist fight broke out among parishioners at Sunday services.

Police said two factions in the Greater Friendship Baptist congregation had been at bitter odds for months over which pastor should occupy the pulpit.

Trial Set For Trujillo Plotter

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Ex-Defense Minister Jose Roman Fernandez will be tried by a court-martial for complicity in the assassination of dictator Rafael Trujillo. It is generally expected he will be executed.

The gray-haired, much-decorated major general who owed his high position to Trujillo has been accused of hoping to take over the government after Trujillo's death.

A communique from the office of Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr., chief of the armed forces, said Roman, whose wife is the niece of Trujillo's widow, had confessed complicity in the slaying of the dictator May 30.

President Joaquin Balaguer told a news conference that the investigation had not brought forth concrete evidence that any foreign nation was involved in the plot against Trujillo.

Balaguer also expressed satisfaction with the activities so far of the mission from the Organization of American States sent here to check the government's promises to restore civil rights and prepare for democratic elections next May 16.

The OAS mission saw persons accused of complicity in Trujillo's death. They were lined up in the yard of La Victoria Penitentiary about 15 miles outside the capital. The purpose was to show that the accused had not been physically mistreated, but the OAS group did not question the 13 men and one woman because they are still being investigated. Two other suspects are still at large.

Flag To Fly 24 Hours At Marine Shrine

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has ordered the U.S. flag flown 24 hours a day at the Marine Corps Memorial.

The proclamation Monday raised to five the number of places where the flag is flown permanently. The others are the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery, the Capitol, Ft. McHenry near Baltimore, where Francis Scott Key wrote "The Star-Spangled Banner," and at Key's grave in Fredrick, Md.

The Marine Corps Memorial, across the Potomac River from Washington, portrays the raising of the Stars and Stripes over Mt. Suribachi during the battle of Iwo Jima in World War II. It depicts action caught by photographer Joe Rosenthal, then with The Associated Press, as a group of Marines raised the flag under fire.

Kennedy said the incident symbolizes the "courage and valor of the American fighting forces."

CONGO MONEY

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold Monday announced a $10 million grant to the Congo and said "the grievous stage is past" in the troubled affairs of the African country.
